Henry Villard to Withdraw from the Edison Company.

New York, Feb. 11.—It is announced that at the meeting of the newly elected board of trustees of the Edison General Electric company Henry Villard will present his resignation.

Mr. Villard's reason for retiring is that he has so many enterprises to look after that it is impossible for him to attend to the duties of the president of the electric company.

H. McK. Twombley, a brother-in-law of the Vanderbilts, will probably be chosen as Mr. Villard's successor. It is said that the Edison General Electric company will shortly be consolidated with the Thomson-Houston Electric company, of Boston.

THE FLYING ROLL.

Followers of a Faith Most Strange.

Michael Xover Mills Leader of the Sect.

A Great Calamity to Overtake All Those

Who Are Not Enlisted in the Cause.

Poor, Misguided People Are Fleeing to Detroit as the Mecca, Which City They Claim Will be Their Place of Deliverance.

Richmond, Ind., Feb. 11.—From this handsome little Quaker City of Hoosierdom there are fleeing from some unspoken doom the earnest converts to a new and strange faith.

Detroit is their Mecca, and to the City of Straits there have gone several of Richmond families. Others are preparing to follow.

At Detroit they have found the leader of their sect. "The Disciples of the Flying Roll" is what they call themselves, and Michael Xover Mills, a native of Elgin, Ontario, is the man to whom they have turned.

The world is to be visited by some dread calamity. That is the fear that possesses these new converts, and but one way of escape is open. The only mortals who will be delivered from the threatened wrath to come are those whose names are recorded in the Flying Roll. Michael Xover Mills is heralded as the one born to fulfill the first verse of the twelfth chapter of Daniel:

"And at the time shall Michael stand up the great Prince which standeth for the children of the people; and there shall be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation, even to that same time; and at that time thy people shall be delivered, everyone that shall be found written in the book."

Detroit has been named by Michael as "the city of deliverance;" and to him his followers are flocking. James J. Jezreel, an Englishman, is the author of a treasured work called "The Flying Roll," and to believers it has been sold. "The holy man" Jezreel is called, and is the key to the New and Old Testaments—the Bible of the new and latter house of Israel. Jezreel, the prophet lays claim to identity as he of whom Jeremiah wrote: "Take thee a roll of the book and write therein all the words that I have spoken with them against Israel and against Judah."

So great is the faith of the edict in the coming disaster that all canvassers for the book have been withdrawn, and they too are hastening to the home of Michael. The Richmond families, who have forsaken old friends, homes and kindred for the new prophet are B. F. Purnell, his wife and children and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Dawson and their little ones. George Primrock and his family, Wm. Knott, Marrion Wallace and his family are other converts. The Richmond colony at Detroit will grow larger. Purnell and Dawson have sent back word that all was prepared for their reception.

Those who have money freely divide with those who have not been so fortunate. A community that is happy, and whose people praise God continually, is the result. Michael, the prince of this "ingathering in Israel," declares that he has already been freed from the uncleanliness of Adam. He writes:

"I thought I was going to be torn to pieces. I was thrown to the ground and balls of fire flew from all parts of my body. I suppose I said 'Praise God' ten thousand times! I am free from all bodily infirmity and all food, that which before was agreeable, disagrees with me."

"Do-It-Right" is the new title Michael has bestowed upon Detroit, and from his quarters at 47 Hamilton avenue, he has penned this message to his followers here: "The Israelites of the Lost Tribes in Richmond—Dear ones, one and all, I send my love to ye. I am more than thankful that it has pleased my Heavenly Father and mother to clothe me with their holy spirit of love, truth and power. I have proved the Flying Roll to be true, and that I am the first one of the 144,000. I am Michael the Prince, that was to stand up for the people of God to deliver Israel. If you will search your Bible and roll you will know, without a doubt, that I am he, only a cleansed body for Christ to blow through, as I of myself can do nothing."

To those of the Flying Roll, Jerusalem is hailed as "The Heavenly Mother." "Michael the Prince," declares that the spiritual meaning of Detroit is, "Do it right," and that, therefore, God has sent for his people to gather there. England, he says, also, means "God's land," and that Michigan being interpreted aright means "where Michael began."

D. W. Taylor ranks as the John the Baptist of the sect in this city, which has witnessed a strange growth of the Flying Roll. There are nearly 100 who have been enrolled as converts. They appear honest and sincere and are quiet in their belief, foisting it upon no one. The 12 lost tribes are to gather at Detroit that the Scriptures may be fulfilled. That is the prophecy of Michael.

The Jews are they of Judah. The first missionary of the new faith who reached Richmond wore his long hair, and his full beard fell over his breast like that of the patriarchs of old. He sowed the seed and the harvest is just now being reaped—an exodus of the faithful to their chosen Mecca.

Upon one subject alone the prophets are silent. They do not pretend to foretell the fate of those whose names are not to be found on the flying roll. They simply point to the prophecies of Daniel and have turned their faces away from the world and entered upon a pilgrimage toward a new religious world of their own.

COAL FAMINE THREATENED.

The London Strike Not Yet Settled.

Ten Thousand Handlers Refuse to Work and Many People May Have to go Cold.

London, Feb. 11.—The strike of coal porters, of whom 10,000 struck yesterday in one district only, continues and threatens to bring about a coal famine in this city.

The directors of the chief coal company this morning are setting an example to their subordinate officers by driving coal delivery vans and in many other ways helping to keep the business going.

AN EMPRESS ILL.

Berlin, Feb. 11.—The empress of Germany is suffering from the influenza.

THE WEATHER.

Predictions for To-morrow and the Conditions Elsewhere.

The local forecast for to-day is fair and colder with probably flurries of snow. For Friday colder and fair.

Yesterday's storm center is still over the lower lake region moving northeastward. Westerly gales will be felt in the St. Lawrence valley and on the New England coast to-day as a result. The storm center passed over Toledo at 4 o'clock this morning with a barometer pressure of 29.3 inches and a diameter of 250 miles. This "low" is peculiar in respect to rapidity, intensity, absence of heat and severe gales at this point. As a result snow and colder weather will follow rapidly after the "low" and snow will precede it instead of rain. The temperature in the northwest is falling to-day about as rapidly as it rose yesterday and will create a cold wave at this point by Friday night; the temperature will probably fall to 14 degrees above, but will rise rapidly Saturday. The lowest temperature in the United States is 20 degrees below at St. Vincent, Minn. The zero line extends from lake Superior to Nebraska thence northward to the Canadian northwest. The highest temperature in Toledo yesterday was 35 degrees—the lowest this morning was 26 degrees. Total snowfall yesterday was 0.22 inches.

Local forecast—Cloudy weather, with snows on the lake shore; colder; northwesterly winds; generally fair and colder Friday, with cold wave to-night.

DIED IN A NOBLE ACT.

Two Girls Killed by the Cars at Cameron.

A Young Lady Tries to Save Her Sister and Meets an Awful Fate.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—A special to the Tribune from Wheeling, W. Va., says: A terrible accident occurred at Cameron, near this city, last evening, in which two beautiful young girls, daughters of Wm. Creswell, a wealthy citizen, lost their lives—one of them while heriocally attempting to save the other.

Essie and Georgiana Creswell, aged respectively 14 and 16, were walking along the B. & O. railroad tracks, and while attempting to cross in front of a west-bound train Essie fell when the engine was almost upon her.

Georgiana, seeing her sister's danger, and ignoring the fact that the attempt was almost certain death, rushed to her rescue.

She, too, stumbled and was struck by the locomotive and killed. Essie was cut in two by the wheels.

THE FACTIONS STILL AT WAR

Will Louisiana Democrats Ever Get Together?

Reports From the Field Would Indicate That They Will Fall Fighting Each Other.

New Orleans, Feb. 11.—There is no hope for peace between the warring factions of the democratic party in this state.

The anti-lottery combine will work in the McEhery districts to throw the negro vote to Leonard and in the white districts to join the Warmouth republican faction for themselves. They will fight it out.

An evening paper publishes a letter received by a local attorney from Washington outlining a plan of campaign in which the republicans will post themselves over the state, watch for fraud, accumulate evidence to bring before a senate committee, have Leonard set up a dual government and throw the election into Washington.

FIGHTING AMONG THEMSELVES.

Four Bucks and One Squaw Killed in New Mexico.

White Oaks, N. M., Feb. 11.—The Mescallero Indians on the reservation near here obtained whisky and indulged to such an extent that they got to fighting among themselves.

Revolvers and knives were brought into action, and the result was the killing of four bucks and one squaw.

Two Indians, the only participants in the fight who were not killed, have been arrested and placed in the guard house on the reservation. This killing was entirely among the Indians themselves and does not involve the white settlers.

THE BLAINE DIVORCE SUIT.

The Young Man in Danger of Contempt.

He Has Not Yet Handed Over the Attorney Fees and Alimony Required by the Judge.

Deadwood, S. D., Feb. 11.—It was stated here yesterday on good authority that no opposition will be made to granting the decree of divorce asked for by Mrs. James G. Blaine, jr., when the case comes for trial next week.

It was also rumored that attorneys fees and alimony have not been paid and that February 10th was the last day on which such payment could be made. Blaine will be in contempt of court if the money is not paid.

FOUND GUILTY.

Sensational Verdict In the Allegheny Extortion Case.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 11.—The verdict of the jury in the case of James G. Wyman, mayor of Allegheny, charged with extortion, was handed in this morning. The mayor is found guilty on two counts.

RICHMOND TERMINAL.

New York, Feb. 11.—The Times says: There is good authority for the statement that when the reorganization of the Richmond terminal property is completed Mr. Albert Fink, the former trunk line commissioner, will be offered the presidency of the new corporation. The Olcott committee has completed its work, and the plan of reorganization prepared by it will probably be made public in a day or two.

BURNED TO DEATH IN JAIL.

Moorhead, Minn., Feb. 11.—The city jail burned early this morning and J. Carring, who was in jail for drunkenness, was burned to death. His body was burned beyond recognition and looked more like a burned log than a man. Officer Williamson tried in vain to rescue Carring. An inquest is in progress. The fire is thought to have been started by a lantern exploding.

A CHANCE FOR DAVID B.

Can He Stem the Tide Flowing Against Him,

By Postponing the Mid-Winter Convention.

The Democrats at the National Capital Are Greatly Alarmed at the State of Affairs in New York.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The democrats here who desire the success of the party rather than that of any individual are much disturbed by the strained relations of the factions in New York.

They appreciate how essential unity in the Empire state is to national victory, and the present situation naturally gives rise to the liveliest apprehensions.

There is some diversity of opinion regarding the meeting called for Thursday night to protest against Senator Hill's freeze-out convention, because nobody seems to understand just what it is likely to do.

But it is admitted on all sides that the trouble might have been avoided and that it may be yet if the senator can rise to the occasion. One of Mr. Hill's best friends expressed the prevailing sentiment with peculiar accuracy to-night.

"It is useless," he said, "to disguise the fact that this uprising against the early convention is deplorable and dangerous. Its effect may even be disastrous to the party in the end.

"That is what is worrying the unbiassed democrats, and it is difficult to make them see that anybody except the senator is responsible.

"Last night I talked over two hours with one of the biggest men in the party—one who is by no means unfriendly to Hill, but whose name has become synonomous with love of party. I insisted that the opposing element represented hostility to true democracy, and should not be encouraged because it might carry its ill-will so far as to lose us New York.

"'I grant all that you have said,' he replied; 'but who is responsible for this condition of things if not Gov. Hill himself? He had and still has the power to do what he pleases. Nobody doubts that the machine is wholly within his grasp. In fact, he demonstrated it by making the state committee act as a unit in fixing the date of the convention.

"'I really cannot understand his policy. As the boys say, it is entirely his own funeral. Certainly, nobody else has so much to lose from the effect of this movement as he. As a democrat he is wholly dependent upon the favor of the people, and yet he continues his political work in Albany to the obvious neglect of his duties here. He more than any other one person should strive for harmony and unity, for they are essential to his success.'

"'But, I said, he has done nothing irregular. The convention was called in the usual manner.'

"'It is useless to go into that question,' my friend enjoined. 'The only point is the reasonableness of the protestors, and really the argument seems to be wholly in their favor. Here a delegation is to be chosen 120 days before the convention. Now on what earthly pretext can delegates be chosen even 90 or 60 days before?

"'The national convention is a deliberative body, composed of men who come to consult and decide upon the most expedient policy and select the most available men.

"'Both of these may change a dozen times between February and June. Look at the changes of the past four months, for instance, and notice how material they have been, especially to Hill's benefit.

"'Moreover,, if this is going to be a sort of political grab game, why has Gray let the Indiana convention go over till April? Why has Pattison put off Pennsylvania's until the same month? Why have Carlisle, Boies and Palmer permitted those of Kentucky, Iowa and Illinois respectively to drift along without even being called yet?

"'Each of these men will have his state delegation, but no one of them has shown a disposition to influence others by declaring in advance. Hill stands alone in this matter and it is hurting him. New York's position is peculiar, to say the least. It is the only state which heeds the unit rule. It has been the home of every democratic candidate for the presidency, with one exception, in 30 years.

"Here is additional reason, therefore, why New York's declaration should represent a moral purpose, backed by a moral element such as would imbue the entire country with confidence, and the fear that this will not be done is what causes most alarm. After all, internal dissensions may be healed, but we have to look to the people in the end. It does seem to me that Gov. Hill is not looking far enough ahead either for his own good or the good of the party.'

"That," continued Senator Hill's friend, "is substantially the argument advanced by the longest-headed democrat in the senate. I couldn't answer it. If anybody else can he may have the privilege. So far as I am concerned I see but one way open for the governor, and that is to postpone the convention at least thirty days.

"He would be taking risks, it is true, but he has taken risks before and come out on top. If he should do this and capture the delegation in spite of it, as I believe he would, there can be no question whatever that he would turn the greatest blunder of his career into a master-stroke in American politics. He would win back all the popularity which he has lost, and so much more with it that nothing could prevent his nomination."

The man who made this statement is well known as a supporter of Senator Hill, and a mighty good politician himself. He simply spoke what scores of others firmly believe.

WAS IT RETRIBUTION?

Story of Two of the Hotel Royal Victims.

Toronto, Ont., Feb. 11.—Mrs. Cohen, who perished in the Hotel Royal fire, was the wife of J. Cohen, a shoe dealer here.

Two years ago she eloped with Louis Levy, of London, Ont., another victim of the fire. For some time they lived abroad but returned here and recently moved to New York where they met their doom together in the fatal hotel fire.

Levy was known here as a gambler and a fakir. Last summer he played the races at New York and Gloucester, returning to his paramour here every Saturday evening.

HAYTI IN NEED OF FUNDS.

Six Million Dollars to be Borrowed.

Hippolyte Will Have Plenty of Fun While Running the Black Republic.

New York, Feb. 11.—Mail advices from Hayti under date of February 4, are to the effect that the government has successfully negotiated a loan of $2,000,000 in Port-au-Prince.

It is expected that when the chambers meet in March next they will authorize the government to contract for a further loan of $6,000,000 in Europe.

All is quiet at present throughout Hayti.

MORE LIBEL SUITS.

Pattison Is After the Man Who Defamed Him.

Philadelphia, Feb. 11.—The case of Wm. F. Jordan and J. J. McLaurin, editors and proprietors of the Harrisburg Call, charged by Gov. Pattison with publishing a libel upon him during his campaign for governor, was on the list for trial before Judge Fell yesterday.

District Attorney Graham represented the commonwealth, Richard P. White appeared as private counsel for the prosecution, and City Solicitor Warwick has been retained by the defense.

Mr. Warwick asked for a postponement of the trial on the ground that Mr. McLaurin was confined to his bed suffering with the grip. A certificate stating that the defendant was unable to attend was submitted to the court. Mr. Jordan was not present because he had been summoned to attend court in Huntingdon.

In granting a postponement Judge Fell said that he would not definitely fix a day for trial, but would leave the matter open in order to give counsel an opportunity to agree upon a day certain for trial.

LINCOLN BOOM A WEAKLING

It Could Not Stand the Heat of a Campaign.

Anti-Harrison Men Admit That It's a Four to One Shot on Grandpa's Hat.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The indications do not seem to be very flattering for the success of the Robert T. Lincoln boom which ex-Senator Platt, Senator Quay and Chairman Clarkson have expected to launch. In the first place the friends of the president insist that Minister Lincoln, having accepted some of the best places under the administration, could not honorably consent to have his name used in this connection and being an honorable man his candidacy is out of the question.

Besides, Illinois has another candidate in the person of Senator Cullum, who thinks that on account of his striking resemblance to the late Abraham Lincoln, the son and every lover of the name should support him. Even if Minister Lincoln made the contest Senator Cullum would be pretty sure to get at least a majority of the Illinois delegation.

For these reasons it is thought that while Minister Lincoln will continue to be talked of as a candidate for president, Platt, Quay, Clarkson and the other leaders of the anti-Harrison forces will devote their energies to induce as many candidates as possible to enter the field so that Harrison will not have a majority of the delegates to the national convention. Then they will try to combine on the strongest candidate, which will probably be General Alger. Failing in that they may spring Lincoln's name on the convention and rush him through as a dark horse.

Still, all classes of politicians here admit that the odds are very largely in favor of Harrison's renomination. Leading anti-Harrison men in the senate, like Senator Stewart, say that Blaine has kept other candidates out of the field too long for them to be able to accomplish much at this late day, and they have made up their minds that they will have to take Harrison.

Senator Hiscock told a number of his friends here to-day that he thought that Harrison would have nearly all, if not the entire, New York delegation. This would indicate that the Apollo of the senate and his chief would not work in harmony in the next state convention.

FRANCO-AMERICAN ALLIANCE

Miss Mattie Mitchell Has Captured a Duke.

A Senator's Daughter United in Marriage to an Officer of the French Army.

Paris, Feb. 11.—The civil marriage of the Duke De La Rochefaucauld and Miss Mattie Mitchell took place yesterday at the Maire of the Seventh arondissement.

The religious ceremony took place to-day at noon at the church of St. Clothilde.

After the ceremony was concluded the deputy mayor said to the duke and his bride: "I am pleased to have the honor of addressing to you the compliments and good wishes of the municipal officers upon the union of an officer of the French army and the head of one of the most ancient and historic families of the country to the daughter of an honorable American senator.

"This marriage endows our country with a new and charming French woman whom I welcome heartily among us, especially as she represents and renews the old alliance between France and America.

"I am proud to salute the eminent persons present here, especially the distinguished American minister. I beg him to kindly accept my expressions of respect for the government he represents and for himself, who enjoys great esteem and consideration here."

Subsequently to the civil marriage a dinner was given at the residence of the dowager duchess De La Rochefaucauld in the Rue de Bellchasse. The bride's trousseau and the wedding presents, which were of great number and extraordinary value, were displayed to-day in a room of the Hotel Holland, where the bride at present resides.

BLAINE SAYS IT IS A LIE.

He Will Not Retire From the Cabinet.

The Fact That Correspondents "Sneaked Him Out" is Proof That He is Not the Man He Formally Was.

Washington, Feb. 11.—Secretary Blaine had a conference yesterday in regard to trade relations to Canada. As he was leaving the white house a reporter showed him the published statement that he was about to retire from the cabinet. He read it slowly and then said with deliberation:

"It is entirely false. There is not a word of truth in it. These stories are being circulated by idle persons who have nothing better to do, and I ask you to deny them in the most positive terms. This statement is an infernal lie."

Questioned as to rumored changes in the cabinet, Mr. Blaine said: "I do not know anything about them. I have all I can do to deny the absurb rumors about myself, without giving attention to those concerning others. I suppose such rumors are started by the same man who set afloat the one about me. There seems to be no more foundation for them."

MCPHERSON LOCATED.

St. Louis, Feb. 11.—The police authorities of this city claim that they have located Page McPherson, the absconding mining broker.

McPherson is said to be in Mexico and was recognized by an acquaintance from this city.

It is believed the extradition treaty between Mexico and this country will permit McPherson to be brought back to face the consequences of his misdoings.

THE EVIDENCE ALMOST IN

Close of the Trial of Samuel, of Posen,

For the Killing of Police Officer Grant.

A Much Mixed Up Case in Which the Witnesses Tell Very Contradictory Stories.

San Francisco, Feb. 11.—The only noteworthy testimony yesterday in the trial of Actor Curtis for murdering Policeman Grant was given by Mrs. Jennie Holden, who lives opposite the scene of the shooting, and by C. S. Bonnett, the driver of the police patrol wagon.

Mrs. Holden described the shooting much as her daughter did and she was equally positive that no one but the two men engaged in the quarrel were in sight at the time.

She declared that she looked up and down the street just after the shooting and saw no one. This is a strong point for the prosecution which it will be difficult to overthrow.

Bennett testified to taking Curtis to the central station in the patrol wagon. Curtis said: "Oh, God, if I could recall the past three or four hours," and again, "See what trouble a man may get into in a little while."

On cross-examination Bennett declared that Curtis never admitted that he shot Grant or knew anything about it. Bennett swore he saw no star on Policeman Grant when he left the station or on his body when it was brought in. This is an important admission for the defense, as they claim there was nothing to show that Grant was a policeman.

The testimony for the state will probably concluded to-day, as District Attorney Barnes announced that he had no more witness to summon.

CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLEMENT.

London, Feb. 11.—The trial of Mr. George A. Hastings, M. P., for East Worcestershire, who is charged with embezzling $75,000 of the funds of the estate of the late Major Brown, of which he was the only surviving trustee, was postponed to-day for a month.

DEMOCRATS IN OHIO.

An Important Meeting Held in Columbus

Campbell to be a Delegate-at-Large and the State to Stand by Grover Cleveland.

Columbus, O., Feb. 11.—Col. James E. Neal, of Hamilton, late democratic state executive chairman; Col. A. C. Carlisle, of Salem, and other prominent democrats met with ex-Gov. Campbell here yesterday.

It is rumored that the meeting had for its object the arrangement of plans to send ex-Gov. Campbell as one of Ohio's delegates at large at Chicago to secure the whole delegation for Cleveland if possible.

TO HAVE A NAVY.

The Kaiser Wants to Keep in Good Fighting Trim.

Berlin, Feb. 11.—The kaiser has given it to be understood that he is anxious to build up the navy as to maintain the standard of the army, and that in the event of war he wishes the German navy to be in condition to take the aggresive, and not remain merely on the defensive.

Yesterday Vice Admiral Holman, representing the kaiser's views appeared before the budget committee of the reichstag and urged increased appropriations for the navy.

He pointed out the large expenditure being incurred for naval purposes in France, Russia, Great Britain and other countries, and said that the situation demanded an increase of the German naval forces.

ANOTHER REVOLUTION.

Brazil to be Turned Over Once More.

Ministers Are Resigning and a Bitter Strife is Being Generated at the Capital.

London, Feb. 11.—For some days past there have been alarming reports in circulation regarding the state of affairs in Brazil.

At first, owing to the frequency during the past three months of sensational dispatches from Brazil, but little attention was paid to the sensational happenings hinted at, but this morning, a dispatch to the Times from Rio Janeiro, announces that another revolution is imminent.

It was stated yesterday in these dispatches that the minister of the interior of Brazil had resigned his portfolio.

To-day it is added that three of the ministers have resigned and that there appears to be little or no doubt that a serious conflict between the constituted authorities and those opposed to them will shortly take place.

Pelotas, near Rio Grande, in the province of Rio Grande do Sul, is said to be in a state of open revolution and a battle between the troops and the populace is anticipated. In fact, it is rumored here in business circles, that a conflict has already taken place. The truth of this story cannot be ascertained at present as all the telegraph wires between Pelotas and Porto Alegre have been cut.

President Harrison at Last at Work.

He Begins to See That Everything in the Census Bureau is Not What it Should be.

New York, Feb. 11.—A special to the Herald from Washington says that President Harrison is secretly investigating the work of the census bureau.

Two experts are overhauling the bureau by his command. The president's action, the dispatch says, is due to the numerous charges made against the census bureau of late. The threatened investigation on the part of the democratic house is also said to have influenced him.

GERMANS ENTERTAINED

At a Pleasing Concert and Ball by the Toledo Maennerchor.

A good-sized audience of Toledo's best German citizens enjoyed a very pleasant entertainment at Turner hall last night, given by the Toledo Maennerchor. An excellent program of German music, vocal and instrumental, was rendered and received hearty applause. The solo parts were well taken and the chorus was good. After the program was concluded, the floor was cleared and dancing was indulged in until a late hour.

FULTON COUNTY CHARGE

Removed from Toledo by the Infirmary Directors of that County.

The infirmary directors of Fulton county were in the city to-day and returned to Wauseon with Jacob Josewick and family, who will be cared for by that county.

It seems Josewick came to Toledo from Fulton county and located at 1334 Nebraska avenue. He is a helpless cripple, and has a family of five depending upon him for support, which, in his condition, he was unable to render.

TO BUILD A NEW INFIRMARY.

Fulton County Commissioners Inspecting Different Institutions.

The commissioners of Fulton county are in Toledo to-day inspecting the Lucas county infirmary. The board is visiting neighboring county seats, picking up pointers on the different infirmaries with a view of turning them to good account in the erection of a similar institution in Fulton county.

It is safe to predict that the Lucas county infirmary will not be taken as a model.

EMERSON CONCERT

At Wheeler's Last Evening—The Star Course Extra.

The Walter Emerson Concert company, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. Star course, drew a fair sized audience at Wheeler's last evening, but not nearly so large as the other entertainments of the course.

The program was a good one and well received. The cornet solos of Mr. Walter Emerson were features of the program. Other members of the company were Miss Mae Fowler, in recitations; Miss Webb, in violin solos; Mr. Shonert, piano, and Miss Babcock in solos.

Mr. Quaife's pioneer work for congregationalism in Toledo and East Toledo is well known and a host of friends wish him success and enjoyment in his new field of labor. Bearing a card from Rev. W. H. Warren, of Vine Street church, Cincinnati, Mr. Quaife made the Bee a pleasant call.

JOHNNY HACKETT

Will Keep His Badge as a Memento of Former Glory.

Mr. John J. Hackett, who has been deputy under United States Marshal Ben Wade for the past four years, has been presented by his chief with a beautiful gold badge, which he will prize highly for all time to come, because of the pleasant memories connected with it.

Mr. Hackett retires on Saturday after a full term of service, with a consciousness of having performed his duties to the satisfaction of court officials and the public. The marshal's staff has been accommodating in every particular.

WANT IT FOR A PARK.

The Triangle at the Corner of Washington Street and Indiana Avenue.

A meeting of the residents and property owners in the vicinity of Washington street and Indiana avenue was held at the office of Dr. Heydrich last evening, to consider the proposition of taking united action to induce the park commissioners to appropriate the triangle at that point for park purposes.

Various gentlemen offered suggestions, the outcome of which was that Messrs. Degnan, Hathaway, Heydrich and Tyrrell were appointed to present the matter to the commissioners at the first opportunity.

AN OLD TIMER

Visiting the Scenes of His Early Exploits in Toledo.

"Deacon" Sears, of Adrian, was in the city yesterday visiting friends. In the early fifties, Mr. Sears was a conductor on the Michigan Central & Northern Indiana railroad and ran into Toledo daily for years. He is a venerable old gentleman and full of interesting reminiscences regarding Toledo's early history.

HIGH TIMES

At the Royal Arcanum Last Evening.

There was a very large attendance at the meeting of Toledo council No. 21, Royal Arcanum, last evening. Five applications were received, and one new member initiated. After the business of the meeting hd concluded a mock initiation was held. The proceedings were ludicrous in the extreme and furnished much amusement.

The ceremonies were those of the order of Odor, and Mr Thomas Biddle acted as Great Odo; Mr. George Boos was Headsman; Dr. D. A. Harroun, Herald, and Mr. Ed. Tippet was the unfortunate candidate.

BURNED BY VITRIOL.

Bad Accident to a Young Man in Poor Circumstances.

A well dressed young man named Chester C. Tracy applied at the infirmary office yesterday for assistance, and his case is a very peculiar one. He came to Toledo about a week ago in search of work, but was unable to find employment. Last Monday a bottle of vitriol, which he was carrying in his vest pocket, was broken and his breast was badly burned by the acid. His hands were also burned. His injuries were dressed by the district physician, and the infirmary directors sent him on to Pittsburg, which city is his home.

Landgraf, jr., Archie Gasoway, Karl Mathies, H. W. Wilhelm, Jas. Keith, J. H. Southard, J. W. Greene, L. Volk, Ed Austin, E. E. Bernhardt and F. W. Heihtman, and the Misses Jennie Roberts, Flo Weber, Maud Drago and Minnie Blood.

GETTING INTO SHAPE

To Apply for a Charter for the Builders' Exchange.

Messrs. P. H. Degnan, Fred Witker and A. Bentley have been selected by the general committee to arrange the necessary preliminaries to secure articles of incorporation for the Builders' Exchange. The gentlemen will consult an attorney, so as to keep from intruding on the intricacies of law.

Everything is expected to be in readiness for permanent organization at the meeting next Tuesday night, at which time headquarters will also likely be settled.

As a matter of convenience, members can pay the charter fee to Secretary Ed J. Weis, who was selected to assist Treasurer Pro Tem. Romeis.

HASSENZAHL AND MILLER.

The Ward Ticket for the Council in the First.

Councilman Hassenzahl has pulled out of the race for police commissioner, so his friends say, and as Alderman Potter declines to run for re-election, a slate has been agreed upon by which Mr. Hassenzahl will be placed on the first ward republican ticket for alderman, and, as has been stated in the Bee, Dan Miller will be named for the council board.

Mr. Hassenzahl has served the ward for two terms, while Mr. Miller has not yet dabbled in politics. The managers are of the opinion that they have things their own way, but there is considerable dissatisfaction existing, and it is more than probable that with two first-class nominations, the democrats may succeed in gaining two seats now held by their opponents in the municipal legislature.

CHESLEY DISCHARGED.

Judge Sala of the Opinion that the Defendant Was First Attacked.

Fred J. Chesley was tried in police court yesterday on charge of stabbing with intent to wound and resisting an officer. Chesley is the man who is alleged to have stabbed James Brady at Air Line Junction last Friday night, and who was terribly pounded in return. The evidence was rather contradictory and the defense was that the others had first attacked Chesley and the defendant claimed that he did not use a knife. Judge Sala reserved his decision until this morning in the matter of the stabbing and discharged him on the charge of resisting the officer.

This morning Judge Sala discharged Chesley and in his decision roundly scored the men who prosecuted Chesley, and stated that it was his opinion that Brady and others had first attacked Chesley.

THE REVIVAL SERVICES

At St. John's M. E. Church Largely Attended, with Good Interest.

On Sunday evening a series of revival services were opened at St. John's M. E. church, on Magnolia street, and much interest has been manifest, large congregations being present.

Rev. Dr. Fish, the pastor, has preached appropriate sermons each evening, principally introductory and as to the requisites needed for a successful revival and an awakening of the people in the neighborhood. The doctor's manner is earnest and persuasive, and has none of that sensational twaddle which is too frequently heard at meetings of this character.

The subject last evening was Prayer, the pastor using the text, "When two are agreed ye shall ask," etc. The pastor's appeal to his hearers was more particularly to have them first get something definite in view, not the general "save the people" prayer, which might mean millions of Chinese, Hindoos or natives of Africa, but rather "God save my son, my daughter, my wife, my husband, or my neighbor." When this specific line is followed, then the gospel will have its effect, and the efforts of Christians will prevail. Leaving the question of asking, there was the matter of agreeing. Revivals did not always follow from the work of large congregations, but frequently it was the two or three devoted followers of Christ who moved sinners to repentance.

"Let each person single out the one or ones they desired to be saved," continued the doctor, "and if necessary share your anxiety with your pastor, your fellow member, or more if need be, and unitedly agree and ask and a revival such as has never been seen will be the result."

The meetings will continue for some time. Gospel hymns No. 6 are used, the singing being an important factor. All are invited to participate.

"Cheap-John" prices won't buy the genuine medicines. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery (for the Liver, Blood and Lungs) and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription (for woman's weaknesses and ailments), each cost $1.00 per bottle, and his Pleasant Pellets (the original little Liver Pills, 25 cents a vial), and no discount.

These genuine medicines are now sold only through druggists, regularly authorized as agents, and at the above long-established prices. But if you get the genuine, they're the cheapest medicines you can buy at any price. They're sold on a peculiar plan—"value received or no pay." In every case they're guaranteed to benefit or cure, or the money is refunded.

Unauthorized dealers may offer spurious imitations or substitutes at lower prices than above. Beware of all such.

SNOOK IS SEATED.

The Voice of the People at the Polls

Ignored by the Ohio Republican Senators.

Judge Sutphen Was Robbed of His Seat

To Satisfy the Greed of Politicians.

The Tombstone Bill Defeated Once More—Heller's Election Bond Bill Passes the House—General Columbus Chat.

Columbus, Feb. 11.—Senate this morning without any ceremony or respect to evidence or justice settled the Snook-Sutphen judicial contest.

When the hour of 11 o'clock arrived Senator Gear made a motion to postpone the consideration for a week in order to examine the law questions submitted by both sides.

In support of this proposition Senator Gear made a lengthy argument claiming that even the supreme court would not claim to decide the case without taking at least one week to consider the evidence and the law.

Mr. Lampsom, said he did not want any partisan spirit stirred up.

This remark was laughed at for nobody will believe him when politics are concerned for he is one of the most bitter partisans that ever held a seat in the legislative halls, and the motion was voted down.

The vote was then taken and Snook, republican, was declared elected by yeas 20 to nays 10.

This prediction was made at commencement of contest and the refusal of Mr. Harris to allow senators to explain their votes was another act of discourtesy. Democrats are quitely taking their medicine.

Democratic members of the legislature had a conference and sent a communication to judge Thurman and Governor McKinley asking them at what time they could call and pay their respects.

Following is a complete statement of all the facts connected with the 50 disputed ballots which were brought into the senate for consideration. These facts speak for themselves and may be thus briefly summed up:

Counted for Snook.

1. Eight votes that were marked only in front of the name of McKinley in excess of those similarly marked in front of the name of Campbell.
2. Two votes marked \ instead of X.
3. One vote marked in the eagle.
4. One vote marked — instead of X.
5. Four votes certified on a separate slip of paper, claimed to have been found the next day after the count had been completed.
6. One vote marked on the margin.
7. Two votes with the names of the voters written thereon.
8. One vote with no mark thereon.

Nineteen votes in all, to which add seven alleged illegal votes counted for Snook, makink 26 votes.

Not Counted for Snook.

9. One vote—torn ballot.
10. One vote marked with ink.
11. One vote with distinguishing mark over the name of Marquis.
12. Two votes marked on or in front of the eagle.
13. One vote marked with blue pencil.
14. Two votes marked 1, instead of X.

Counted for Sutphen.

1. Two votes with names of voters written thereon.
2. One vote with Sutphen's name written in people's ticket.
3. Two votes marked on, above or in front of the rooster.
4. One vote where voter left booth and afterward returned and voted. Six votes in all, to which add three alleged illegal votes, making nine votes.

Not Counted for Sutphen.

5. Three votes marked in front of or over the rooster.
6. Three votes marked between the name of the party and the name of Gov. Campbell.
7. One vote with name of voter written thereon—seven votes in all.

There are 34 disputed votes as to Snook and 16 as to Sutphen.

Sutphen's plurality, as declared by the board of elections, was right.

It is clear enough that Snook it not entitled to the following votes: The eight in paragraph 1 of those counted for him; the one vote in paragraph 3, the four in paragraph 7 and the one in paragraph 8. This reduces his vote seventeen. He is clearly entitled to the one not counted for him in paragraph 9, the one in paragraph 10, and probably to the two in paragraph 14. This makes his net loss thirteen.

It is clear enough that Sutphen is not entitled to the two votes counted for him in paragraph 1 under his name, nor to the two in paragraph 3. This reduces his vote three, and leaves him a plurality of five.

Snook's vote being reduced 13 and Sutphen's plurality 3, leaves Sutphen a plurality of 18. Then throw out the alleged illegal ballots cast for Sutphen, and count the alleged 7 illegal ballots cast for Snook for him, and it leaves Sutphen 11 plurality, or 3 more than was given him by the board of elections.

These are the exact, unprejudiced and indisputable facts in the case. All the disputed ballots are given above, with their character as shown by the evidence. Any intelligent man can apply the rule for himself.

The same rule applied to all the votes that are parallel, and giving Mr. Snook the benefit of all the ballots that are not parallel, elects Sutphen by 11 votes.

Tombstone Bill.

The senate this morning made short work of the old chestnut known as the tombstone bill, which gave the person who sold the stone the power to remove the same if not paid for within three years.

It is curious that every time this bill came before the legislature it was presented from the northwest. This time McConica was the person who favored its passage, but Gear, Geyer and all other democrats fought it, and on motion of McMaken it was indefinitely postponed by a vote of 17 to 11.

Railroad Bill.

Mr. Griffin's bill, rendering it imperative for minority stockholders in the event of a consolidation of railroads, to bring suits affecting the same in the state in which such company was organized, passed this morning.

Jury Instruction.

The bill requiring the giving or refusing of instruction to juries on matters on law before the final arguments are begun, introduced by Mr. Heinlein, was passed this morning after considerable debate.

Dead Witnesses.

The senate has passed the Lampson bill providing that if witness dies, and his testimony has been taken by a stenographer, the same may be incorporated in a bill of exceptions, and in case of an appeal the stenographer may read it in future trials.

Paying for the Election.

Mr. Heller's bill authorizing the commissioners of Lucas county to issue $20,000 in bonds to pay election expenses of last fall and this spring, passed the house this morning.

To Investigate Sheman's Election.

Mr. Harshbarger yesterday afternoon offered the following resolution which went over under the rules:

Whereas, It is the sense of the people as well as the spirit of the law of the great state of Ohio that the oath of office should not be administered to any person or persons who have not been honestly and legally elected thereto; and

Whereas, It has been publicly charged that one John Sherman, an inhabitant of the city of Mansfield, in the county of Richland and the state of Ohio, and who claims to have been duly elected to a seat in the United States senate from the said state of Ohio on the twelfth day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two, did improperly, maliciously and in violation of law coerce with theats, promises, force and other occult means influence certain members of the seventieth general assembly of the state of Ohio to cast their ballots in opposition to their individual preference and against their best judgment; and

Whereas, It is a duty owing to society, to law and to good government that these charges should be thoroughly and ably investigated; therefore be it

Resolved, That the whole matter be and is hereby referred for such action as may be proper to the senate of the United States, with the further request that the Hon. Calvin S. Brice proceed in accordance with the rules and regulations of the United States senate and cause such inquiry to be made into the eligibility of the said John Sherman to a seat in the United States senate and secure such action therein as the facts ascertained may warrant.

When Mr. Harshbarger offered the resolution there was a hurried consultation among certain of the republicans, but as it went over under the rules, no attempt to fight it was made.

Contested Election Cases.

Yesterday afternoon Senator Phillips introduced a bill in the senate that will give nearly all contested election cases a favorable decision to the republicans, as nearly all the courts of the state are in the hands of the republican party, and will be more so when Nichols secures the passage of his judicial redistricting bill. The Phillips bill gives circuit courts original juisdiction in all contest cases of state officers and common pleas and superior judgeships. The contest is to be held in the county where the contestee resides. Service is to be made as in all civil cases, and the contest conducted under the rules governing such cases, except the judges are to try the case without the assistance of a jury. The case may be taken to the supreme court on error, and all testimony in that court shall be submitted in writing.

Ohio, Indiana and Michigan State Line.

Gov. McKinley yesterday transmitted to the senate the special reports of Prof. T. C. Mendenhall and A. A. Graham, appointed under authority of the last general assembly to examine into and report upon the boundary lines between Ohio, Indiana and Michigan. The report was referred to the committee on federal relations. The report states that the line between Indiana and Ohio is zigzag, and that by the constitution it should be straight, and they suggest that the governors of the two states should take steps to cause a survey of the line.

Little Rippers for a Cent.

Representative Workman, of Hardin, who was elected by a scratch to represent that county, wants to be retained, so he has introduced a bill authorizing the republican judge of that county to divide the city of Kenton into wards, in order that the Forsker people can get their hands into the public treasury. In order that the plan may succeed he has been begging the republican members of the house to assist him, as he is under the belief that very little ripping will be done by this legislature.

While Workman was working up support for his little ripping scheme his colleague, "Lengthy Allaman," was pleading with several of the backers of the Forsker crowd asking them to assist him in the passage of a bill that he introduced yesterday afternoon, establishing a police court in Dayton, the judge of which is to be elected by the people and the clerk and prosecuting attorney appointed by the police commission..

Bills Introduced in House.

The following bills were introduced yesterday afternoon in the house:

Mr. McConnell—Making it a misdemeanor to engage in barbering on Sunday.

Mr. Sterritt—Requiring county commissioners to issue charters to villages having the necessary population.

Mr. Bloch—Requiring applicants for positions as official court stenographers to undergo a competitive examination.

Mr. Strehl—Repealing the section in the salary bill referring to sheriffs, so as to restore the fee system to all counties save Cuyahoga and Hamilton.

Mr. Martin—Making more explicit the procedure in improving a county road when it lies in more than one county.

Mr. Dodge—Abolishing township trustees where hamlets have been organized co-extensive with the township.

Daugherty a Candidate.

It was to-day announced that Hon. Harry M. Daugherty, representative from Fayette county, would be in the race henceforth for the nomination at the next republican state convention for secretary of state. His friends last night began active work in his behalf, and he is, therefore, an avowed candidate.

His antagonist up to date is Hon. Byron S. Wydman, of Hamilton county, who has been in the field for a month.

Notes.

The senate yesterday afternoon passed a bill by Taylor, of Champaign, appropriating $1,785,000 for the support of the common schools of this state.

Senator Rorick yesterday afternoon introduced a bill authorizing Archbald, Fulton county, to issue five thousand dollars in bonds to complete a school house.

Cleveland wants an electric light plant of its own and in order to accomplish that object a bill authorizing the issuing of $1,000,000 in bonds to establish the same has been introduced, as well as one to provide for the erection of a new city hall, the same to be paid for at the rate of $100,000 per year without having to issue bonds.

Senator Iden introduced a bill in the senate yesterday afternoon that provides for an inspector of plumbing in cities of the first class and cities of the first grade of the first, second and third grades of the second class, to be appointed by the mayor, to receive a salary of $1,500 a year. He shall be examined by a board appointed by the mayor, and receive a certificate of qualification.

Yesterday afternoon the house committee on public works reported back Price's resolution with a recommendation that the standing house committee on public works and Mr. Price go to Cincinnati and investigate by what right the Pennsylvania railroad company are using the thoroughfares of that city that were deeded for street and sewerage purposes in 1863. The propostition was discussed for sometime, after which it was defeated and the resolution as originally introduced requesting the speaker to appoint a committee of five, was adopted.

At the age of 16 Nancy Allen married Stephen Frost, who lived on a farm adjoining her father's, on the banks of the Muskingum, almost opposite where the village of Lowell now stands, and this spot has been her home ever since.

FATHER KOLASINSKI

Having a Preliminary Hearing in Police Court.

Much Trouble Occasioned by the Inability of the Witnesses to Speak the English Language.

The police court was busy all of yesterday afternoon and evening with the trial of Rev. Nicodemas Kolasinski on a charge of criminal assault and the case is still occupying the court to-day.

But very few of the witnesses can speak English, and it was found necessary to employ an interpreter, and Stanislaus Jakel was engaged in this capacity.

The defendant is represented by Mr. James E. Pilliod and Judge J. M. Ritchie.

Great crowds congregated in and about the court room yesterday afternoon, but all except the reporters were ejected when the trial began.

The witnesses are also kept out of the court room.

Frances Dzikowski, the girl alleged to have been assaulted, was the first witness on the stand, and her explanation occupied all of the time yesterday and this morning. She told of having worked for the priest and said that the alleged assaults occurred on September 12 and 13.

Judge Ritchie subjected her to a long and trying cross-examination, and she contradicted herself numerous times.

What Was the Limit?

Flattery.

Ellen—And what did Mr. Penman say of my article? Of course he accepted it; but what did he say? I'm just dying to know.

Henry—He didn't say much of anything, except to remark that it was full of anachronisms.

Ellen—No? Did he say that? He was awfully good; but I'm afraid he flatters me. Though, to be sure, everybody who has seen it says it was splendid.—Boston Transcript.

Simply Ignorance.

"That fellow, Hall, ought to be banished from polite society. He's a perfect boob."

"How so, Mr. Tutchey?"

"You remember that bon mot I made at dinner?"

"Yes."

"Well, he was ill-mannered enough to ask if it was original with me. That shows how unsophisticated he is."

"Yes, nobody but an ignoramus could have thought you were Sidney Smith.—Life.

The Poet's Aspiration.

There's a happy vale, they tell me,
In the big and blooming West,
Where collectors cease from troubling,
And poor debtors are at rest.
Where subpoenas are as worthless
As the witnesses they seek,
And the lawyers find quite useless
Their redundancy of cheek.
In this land I've never traveled,
But I've seen it in my dreams,
And a fair and fertile country
Every portion of it seems.
Not a land shark hovers near it,
Nor a speculator bland,
But its name I grieve to tell you,
For they call it "No Man's Land."
—New York Herald.

Why He Went.

He was one of the noblest sons of Chicago and could trace his lineage back to one of the first houses—packing houses—of his native city. His alert ears were thrust forward as if to catch the sound of the first drops in the price of wheat. A fair youth, a world's fair youth, he was, with a smile like the lake front, and he held the hand of a New York belle in his own. It was a good hand to hold in the game of life and he stood pat on it and touched it with a gentle pat.

"Cerissa," he said in a gentle tone, "I am a self-made man. "Why do you smile?"

"Self-made," said she thoughtfully. "I was wondering where you got the pattern for the ears."

Silently he arose. Out into the night he went, and touching a match to his burning cheek, he rapidly lighted a cigarette and poisoned the atmosphere toward the Central depot. All was over between them, 'way over, in Hoboken.—Judge.

The Small Brother's Anxiety.

"Two or three days ago," remarked Dr. T. Hamilton Burch in the course of a conversation yesterday evening, "I received a hurried call to a particularly swell Madison avenue mansion. The messenger assured me that it was a matter of life and death, and that my immediate presence was needed to avoid the latter. so, jumping into a cab, I flew to the aid of the unknown sufferer. Arriving at the house I rushed up to a room, which contained half a dozen people gathered about a couch, on which lay a small boy with protruding eyes and a purplish countenance. I was informed that the young gentleman had accidentally swallowed a penny, which obstinately insisted upon sticking squarely in his throat. I hastily unpacked the necessary instruments and started in to recapture the coin.

"While every one present exhibited the most intense interest in the operation, the solicitude of the victim's youngest brother was affecting to a degree. With an expression of serious apprehension and a voice trembling with grief, he plied me with questions upon the possible outcome of the accident. I answered him with words of encouragement, and finally, amid a general sigh of relief, drew forth the obnoxious coin.

"'There,' I exclaimed, patting the younger brother on the shoulder, 'we've got it at last.'

"'I'm so glad,' he responded with a smile. 'It was my cent.'"—New York Commercial Advertiser.

She Slammed the Door.

"Some women are so foolish," observed Bloobumper.

"Yes," said Spatts in reply.

"Here's another woman fooled by a chap who took to the house a neatly tied bundle and told her it was a new suit her husband had bought and she was to give him $25, as it was sent collect on delivery."

"Well," urged Spatts, "wouldn't it be perfectly natural for a woman to pay the money under such circumstances.

"It might be natural, but it would be foolish. Now, you could never catch my wife with any such scheme as that."

"Oh, I imagine your wife would be as ready to respond to a message of that character from her husband as any other woman."

"No, sir, she wouldn't. I'll bet $10 that no one could get money out of her on any such pretense."

"Well, I'll take that bet," said Spatts.

Accordingly a packet was prepared, filled with rags neatly folded and wrapped in a nice clean sheet of manilla paper. It was given in charge of an intelligent colored man, who was instructed to proceed to Mrs. Bloobumper's, present the package and ask for $25, as it was some clothing which her husband had bought and ordered sent home C. O. D.

In a little more than half an hour the man returned, and he brought the bundle back.

"What did I tell you?" Bloobumper said to Spatts, exultingly.

"What did Mrs. Bloobumper say?" Spatts asked of the messenger.

"She said, sah, dat if Mistah Bloobumper war goin' to send home $25 packages an' expect her to pay for 'em, he'd better gib her more than 50 cents when she arsk him for $5 to run de house on. Den she slam de doah, sah."—Jury.

WAITING.

Serene I fold my hands and wait,
Nor care for wind, nor tide, nor sea;
I rave no more 'gainst time or fate,
For lo! my own shall come to me.

I stay my haste, I make delays;
For what avails this eager pace?
I stand amid the eternal ways,
And what is mine shall know my face.

Asleep, awake, by night or day,
The friends I seek are seeking me;
No wind can drive my bark astray,
Nor change the tide of destiny.

What matter if I stand alone?
I wait with joy the coming years;
My heart shall reap where it has sown,
And garner up its fruit of tears.

The waters know their own and draw
The brook that springs in yonder heights;
So flows the good with equal law
Unto the soul of pure delights.

Yon floweret nodding in the wind
Is ready plighted to the bee;
And, maiden, why that look unkind?
For lo! thy lover seeketh thee.

The stars come nightly to the sky,
The tidal wave unto the sea;
Nor time, nor space, nor deep, nor high,
Can keep my own away from me.
—John Burroughs in the Boston Globe.

IN A BASE BALL WAY.

What Toledo's Chances Are the Coming Season.

A Splendid Circuit is Now Being Arranged.

All That Remains to Make it a Success is the Addition of Toledo to the Ranks—What is Being Done.

Toledo's experience in the base ball world has been checkered, and at times sensational. We have been in the swim several times, and the combination of circumstances have always been against us, yet notwithstanding all this the people of the city have realized that the American public likes base ball, and that a club is a good card for a city, and have always come to the front and provided for a team.

This has been done in the face of wars that would have disheartened less public spirited citizens.

The coming season shows the best promise of any, and the plan upon which the Western association is to be run has evolved itself out of the experience of the past, and for the first time in the history of the game have the plans been reduced to a business basis.

The men who are behind the Western league are base ball men of experience, and they propose to prosper by what they have learned.

The prosposed circuit is to be made up of Minneapolis, St. Paul, Kansas City and Omaha in the west, with Milwaukee, Indianapolis, Columbus and Toledo in the east.

All the cities are in line except Toledo, and steps are now being taken to interest the people here. In former years base ball has been looked upon as a losing venture, and people were asked to contribute to a losing game. This year plans have been arranged that makes it possible for the people who back the venture to get something out of it.

Mr. Gus Schmelz, of Columbus, is today in conversation with a number of business men, explaining the plan of campaign that is to be followed.

In the first place, each club will carry twelve men at a salary list of $12,000. The president of the league, in order that no club can jump the limit, has been authorized to sign 96 men, 12 men for each club. To fill these 96 positions he has already received 300 applications from some of the best ball players in the country, among them such men as Hatfield, Myers, Vickery and many who held prominent positions in the big league last season.

When 96 players has been signed the players committee will group them into eight as evenly balanced clubs as it is possible. Then the League-Association will take the list and revise it with a sole view of making the clubs as evenly matched as it is possible to do.

When this is done the clubs will be numbered and drawn by the cities composing the circuit, and the result will be that each each of the cities will have a strong team, at a cost of $12,000, whereas the late Toledo association team costs its backers over $32,000.

The mileage of the western league will be prorated so that no city can get the worst of the jumps.

The holiday receipts will be pooled and divided among the eight clubs. Should Toledo be scheduled at home on July 4, and should it rain, Toledo would get 1-8 of what was taken in by the six clubs playing in the beautiful sunshine.

Matters of economy have been studied, and on the whole the plan of the Western league, as presented by Mr. Schmelz, is the best that has ever been offered in the history of base ball.

So confident of the success of the plan are the originators that President Speas, of the Kansas City club, took all the stock of the Omaha club, and will run both organizations.

Toledo, at last, has a chance to enter a base ball compact that promises to make the game permanent in the city, and it is to be hoped the citizens will take kindly to the project and aid Mr. Schmelz in his work.

THE OVERMAN TRIAL.

His Toledo Transactions Before the Court.

His Purchase From Lamson Bros. Not as Large as Alleged—Mr. Lamson Returns Home.

Mr. J. G. Lamson, who has been attending the trial of Major Overman in Cleveland for the past week as a witness, has returned home.

One of the charges against Major Overman is that he raised a bill of Lamson Bros. from $2.60 to $22.60. The bill was for cambric and amounted to $2.60 as testified to by Mr. Lamson. Added to the bill was an item of $20 for work done on the steamer Swansea. Mr. Lamson testified that his firm never did any work on the Swansea.

The following is taken from the evidence given by Major Overman yesterday. It is clipped from the Leader:

Major Overman was then examined at length in regard to the circumstances under which he signed the Lamson and Worthington vouchers.

"When you certified to the correctness of Lamson Bros'. account, was your attention drawn to the manner in which the voucher was filled in?"

"It was not. It had been drawn up in the regular course of events and transferred to the account current by my clerk."

"Can you state the exact balance of the petty cash fund now in your hands?"

"I cannot. It is about $225, as stated yesterday."

"If you had the bills and memoranda to which you have referred, could you state the exact balance in that fund?"

"I could."

"Had you such data when you left for Washington in December, 1891?"

"I had."

"What did you do with them?"

"I left them in my desk."

"Up to April, 1891, who prepared, for your signature, your checks as disbursing officer?"

"I prepared them myself."

"You have heard Mr. Rossiter's evidence with reference to the Lamson and Worthington vouchers, as to instructions received from you. Did you ever give him any memoranda or instructions as to how he should fill them in?"

"I did not. I gave him general instructions, as before stated, with regard to small vouchers. Whether he filled up these particular vouchers in the way they were filled up for his own convenience or not, I do not know."

The judge advocate here branched off on a new line of examination.

"When Lamson Bros. signed that voucher how much of it was filled in?"

"Merely the receipt part."

"Was that filled in for $22.60?"

"It was, sir."

"There was only $2.60 due then for cambric, isn't that so?"

"There was only $2.60 due."

"Did you explain to them why the voucher was for $22.60?"

"I have no recollection of doing so."

"You just sent the voucher to them without any explanation?"

"Yes, sir."

"When you filed the voucher how did you know that the bills you intended to pay would exactly make $22.60?"

"I had the bills."

"How did Rossiter know?"

"He didn't have to know."

"All he had to do was to fill out the voucher so that the item would correspond with the amount?"

"Yes, sir."

"You certified to the correctness of that voucher?"

"Yes, sir."

"And knew it was not correct?"

"Yes, sir."

"You drew the check in payment of it?"

"Yes, sir."

"Have you the stub of that check?"

"No, sir."

"Since the check was drawn has an inspecting officer examined your accounts?"

"Yes, sir."

"The vocher was submitted to him and also the stub of the check, were they not?"

"Yes, sir."

"Did he find any fault in the voucher?"

"No, sir; no objection has ever been made to any of my vouchers until this time."

"The inspecting officer would expect to find the stub filled out with the name Lamson Bros., and the amount $22.60, would he not?"

"He would, sir."

"So that, as no objection was made by him, the stub must have corresponded with the voucher?"

"He made no comment, so they must have corresponded."

"You filled in the Worthington voucher?"

"I did, sir."

"Where did you get the amount?"

"From a statement rendered by the company. The statement contained no items."

READ'S BAD BREAK.

"Three Interested Disreputable Freeholders" Mad.

The City Solicitor's Famous Brief Will go Thundering Down the Ages as a Record Breaker.

A typewriter may be attractive, as a rule accurate, and withal a very necessary article, but still not infallibility itself, for mistakes will somehow or other creep in—and very laughable mistakes, too, as City Solicitor W. H. A. Read has just found out.

It seems that not long ago Mr. Read filed a brief in a city case in the supreme court of Ohio, that is, notwithstanding its stern legal aspect, a very laughable document all the same.

While dictating the contents to his stenographer, Mr. Read stated, as is usual, that the appraisers of the property involved were "three disinterested, reputable citizens" of Toledo. The stenographer jotted down the paragraph in those queer little nump back pot hooks that shorthand writers use, but when the task of deciphering the heiroglyphics was commenced, lo and behold, the pot hooks got mixed and "three disinterested, reputable citizens" were innocently put on record as "three interested, disreputable citizens," and so the brief was filed.

The opposing lawyers have, of course, got possession of the falsifying brief, and are having lots of fun at the expense of Mr. Read and the three reputable citizens, who don't think it a good joke at all.

QUEER BUSINESS.

Alleged Ill Treatment of a Young Orphan Girl

Stranded in This City—The Case Being Investigated by the Infirmary Directors.

The infirmary directors are to-day investigating a case that is rather sensational in some of its features, and may prove serious for some of the parties concerned.

This morning they received a report from the Retreat mission that a young girl was there who wished to go to Gibsonburg. When the directors looked into the matter they discovered some very queer proceedings on the part of somebody, and if the present indications are true the girl has been very illy treated by somebody.

She states that she left the Orphans' home at Richmond, Indiana, to go to Gibsonburg, where she had friends, and she had a ticket to Toledo. She arrived at Piqua, Ohio, yesterday, and from there came to Toledo over the C., H. & D. railroad.

In some manner her ticket was mislaid, and as she could not produce it on the train the conductor took the check for her trunk as security for her fare.

Arriving in Toledo yesterday afternoon she had only money enough to pay her fare to Gibsonburg, but wanted to get her trunk.

Someone directed her to the Retreat mission, and she went there last night. She says that while there last night some doctor put in an appearance and she was compelled to submit to an examination, notwithstanding her protests.

When the girl's presence in the city was reported at the infirmary office this morning, these matters were brought to light, and the girl's ticket was also found. The directors secured her trunk and sent her on to Gibsonburg.

The girl is about 16 years old, well dressed and of good appearance, and if the matter is as reported the directors consider that an outrage has been perpetrated, as there was no reason for examining the girl, and an explanation will be demanded from the physician who made the examination.

IT CAVES ONCE MORE.

The Lake Shore at Last Surrenders Fully,

And Will Allow Its Agents to Sell Tickets Over the Alton—The Sequel to a Recent Article in the Bee.

At last the Lake Shore has pulled its horns way in and will again do business with the Chicago & Alton on the old basis. The passenger department of the road has prepared the following circular which will be issued shortly:

"Passenger and ticket department—Resumption of reciprocal relations with the Chicago & Alton railroad.

"On receipt hereof agents will resume the sale of tickets and the checking of baggage over the Chicago & Alton railroad, and conductors and gatemen will be governed accordingly."

It is said that while the passenger department will issue the above, it will not be signed by President Newell as is customary with such documents. It will be remembered that only a few days ago Mr. Newell signed a circular allowing coupon tickets from connecting lines that read over the Alton, to be used over the Lake Shore, which fact was published in the Bee.

RESCUED FROM DEATH.

Sensational Scene on Sandusky Bay.

One Hundred School Children, Lake Bound on Floating Ice, Picked Up by the American Eagle.

Sandusky, O., Feb. 11.—Yesterday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock, while 100 school children were having a skate on the bay the ice broke up and they began to drift towards the lake.

It was a long while before the people on land realized the situation they were in, and the accident, which might have resulted in a great loss of life, was prevented by the steamer American Eagle going to their rescue.

It was very difficult to get them aboard, as the ice was very soft and would crumble at the least disturbance.

Fortunately no lives were lost. When the Eagle overtook them they were about two miles from shore and were traveling rapidly down the channel through which the steamer travels daily to and from the islands.

IN TRADING CIRCLES

Both at Our Home and Abroad.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Current for Produce and Other Articles

London wheat market 3d per quarter higher, and steady. Corn steady; English and French country markets quiet and steady. Liverpool wheat dull, quotations unchanged. Corn a shade higher.

The receipts of wheat at seven principal western points to-day are 388,905 bu., compared with 220,313 bu on the same day last year.

Chicago Bulletin.—American millers and the people of Minnesota have contributed 3,000,000 lbs. of flour and 1,000,000 lbs. of corn to the Russian relief fund, and 90 per cent. of the flour is now on its way to New York or in that city.

California Wheat Movement.

The receipts at San Francisco in the week ending February 3 equaled 662,145 bu of wheat and 23,969 bbls of flour. The exports equaled 666,543 bu of wheat and 21,323 bbls of flour.

Michigan Crop.

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 11.—The Michigan crop report for February, issued by the secretary of state imparts the information that the weather conditions during January were favorable for the growing wheat. Correspondents in all sections of the state, with few exceptions, report that the crop suffered no injury, the ground being well covered with snow nearly all the month. The total number of bushels of wheat reported marketed by farmers in January was 981,048, and the total amount marketed by farmers in January was 981,048 and the total amount marketed from August to January was 9,950,695 bu, which is 1,069,847 bu more than was reported marketed in the same months last year, and 32 per cent of the estimated crop of 1891. Farm animals of all kinds are wintering well, their condition as reported ranging from 2 to 4 points below the average.

Receipts of wheat to-day at Minneapolis and Duluth are decreased to 257,832 bu. and at five other western points also decreased to 131,073 bu.

The export decreases yesterday at four Atlantic ports were: Wheat, 502,165 bu. and flour to an aggregate of 750,000 bu. The export of corn was 621,582 bu. and of oats 26,684 bu.

English markets reported herein open at London, wheat 3 pence higher; corn steady; Liverpool wheat steady, corn shade better.

Trading in Puts and Calls.

As the Chicago board of trade failed to pass resolutions, as expected, indicating an intention of prosecuting, or giving information of those who deal in these unlawful trades, the check upon it has subsided, and the practice is again commenced with all of its stigma and reproach upon the exchanges.

The Markets To-Day.

We have steadier wheat markets on this side of the ocean up to 2 o'clock. There is nothing in the news of the day that is exciting for either side of the deal, and the variations in prices have been inconsiderable. There is no crop news of the least exciting character. We are quietly drifting along towards the spring of our discontent, uncertain weather and, perhaps, vicissitudes, but we can congratulate ourselves upon escaping, for two and one-half winter months, nearly all crop misfortunes.

Foreign markets close about unchanged.

In New York February wheat closed 1-4 up and May 1-8 down. February corn 1-8 down and May 1-8 up. Feb. oats unchanged.

In Chicago February wheat closed 1-4 lower and May unchanged. February corn 1-2 lower and May unchanged.

In Toledo the market for May wheat has been very quiet and the business limited, as compared with yesterday. The changes in price were light and the day has been a listless and uninteresting one all around. The grain dealers of this country are in an unsettled and demoralized condition by the uncertainty of the bill before the congressional committee for the suppression of the trade in futures.

On the call May wheat sold at 95c. After the call at 94 7-8c to 95c and to 94 1-2c and closed at 95 1-8c, a gain of 1-8c.

Cash wheat was dull, and the demand and sales very light. No. 2 soft sold and closed at 92 1-2c, steady. Corn—No. 2 at 41c; No. 3 at 40 1-2c. Oats—No. 2 about 32c; No. 3 at 30c. There was no let-up this morning in the activity which has characterized the dealings on the stock exchange for the past few days.

Trading was on an enormous scale and far exceeded that of any business done during the morning hours within the memory of some of the older members of the exchange. The sales to noon aggregated 864,900 shares. Reading monopolized the attention of speculators. The magnitude of the transactions in that stock was unheard of, and within the first few minutes of business 100,000 shares of it had been sold. It opened 2 1-8 per cent. higher at 57 1-2 and on enormous transactions, accompanied with great excitement, its price raised in a twinkling to 64. Transactions of 1,000 shares were exceptionally small. A few minutes later the price of Reading suddenly reacted under heavy realizations to 60 1-2, and during the remainder of the hour its price fluctuated between that figure and 63. Jersey Central was exceptionally strong and advanced on a moderate business from 130 to 138. Delaware & Hudson came next with an advance from 131 to 134. Both subsequently reacted when Reading fell off. St. Paul was weak from the start and declined 1 1-2 per cent. Burlington declined 1 per cent. The general list was firmer and at noon prices were about the best of the morning, in a majority of cases. At this writing the market is still active.

How Old Man McLean Made a Stake.

He Insures His Life for $100,000, Buys a Hotel on the Policy, and Clears $30,000 on a Dicker.

That grand old man and great financier, C. W. McLean, the father of Glassboro and general all-around real estate plunger, has been heard from again. This time it is in Florida.

Before leaving Ohio, so the story goes, Mr. McLean insured his life for $100,000. Going to Florida he bought out a famous hotel and summer resort for $120,000, putting up his life policy as dead sure collateral. He then went to New York and leased his newly acquired property to the owners of the Fifth Avenue hotel for a term of ten years, clearing, it is said, $30,000 by the deal.

Mr. McLean paid down a little money and the balance was to be paid in 10 annual installments. The rental will not only pay the annual indebtedness, but will give Mr. McLean a handsome annuity to live on.

At the end of ten years Mr. McLean will not only own the hotel, but will have cleared off the entire indebtedness, in the meantime living like a prince.

If Mr. McLean can be beaten as a real estate plunger, the individual should be trotted out. The old man is still in it.

STEPPED DOWN AND OUT.

Superintendent Robbins, of the Children's Home,

Quietly Relinquishes His Position When Asked to Do So by the Trustees.

Superintendent Rinaldo Robbins, of the Lucas County Children's home, has stepped down and out of the position which he has filled for not quite a year.

His successor has been selected, and will be John C. Neice, superintendent of the Fairmont Children's home. The trustees have kept the matter quiet, but such secrets will leak out.

Mr. Robbins was a very good man, but had no previous knowledge in the management of such institutions. It was understood by him that he was to relinquish his position at any time the trustees saw fit to make a change. The trustees speak of him as a man in the highest terms. His successor is a man of wide experience in the management of children's homes, and will undoubtedly give satisfaction.

M. D. Woodford and Mr. Zimmerman Conducted the Negotiations Which Were Consummated in New York Last Week.

The Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton railroad has acquired the Indianapolis, Decatur & Western line. Vice President Zimmerman, of the first-named company, is authority for the statement.

The deal has been coming for several months and was consummated in New York last week. The negotiations were conducted by President M. D. Woodford, of Toledo, and Vice President Zimmerman, representing the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton, and a committee appointed by the stockholders of the Indianapolis, Decatur & Western.

The line extends from Indianapolis to Decatur, a distance of 150 miles, passing through one of the richest sections of the west. Under the new management the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton will have the shortest and most direct route to Kansas City and will give Cincinnati an advantage over Chicago and Indianapolis for business in that part of the Hoosier state traversed by the Indianapolis, Decatur & Western.

The organization of Alger clubs in Pennsylvania immediately following Blaine's announcement, is notice to Grandson Harrison that he is not to have a walk-over to that renomination.

The proposition to build a new state house will not meet favor in any section of Ohio, outside of Columbus. It is true the present capitol is rather small, but it is big enough for many years to come, when the taxes of the people can be used to a much better advantage. The profligacy of legislators with public funds is proverbial and is the bane of statecraft. It would be better to leave the bulk of taxes in the pockets of the people for their own use. Most certainly Ohio does not want to assume a debt of five or ten millions at the present time for a magnificent capitol building. That scheme should not get out of a committee pigeon hole.

The Chilean controversy is practically ended, but its effect on the republics of South America is far-reaching. The journals of other countries than Chile are saying sneering things about the professed friendship of the United States, as demonstrated by the Chilean episode. It has badly damaged the friendly schemes of Secretary Blaine and there be those who believe it was crowded to the utmost with that intent.

When the writers of eulogies on Mr. Blaine include in the story of his career a statement that he was "probably" elected in 1884 and counted out, they are simply making a faint bluff. The only man who was elected to the presidency of the United States and was defrauded out of his possession of the office was Samuel J. Tilden, in 1876. The blackest blot on the country's history stains that page and no such weak attempt to "get even" will be listened to for a moment.

Representative Andrews has a bill before congress the avowed object of which is "to restore the iron industries of New England." It asks for free ore and reduced duty on the manufactured product. Has New England indeed come to understand that a tariff tax doesn't bring prosperity, in all cases? "Protect your factories and look to see your farms grow and increase around them," has been the preachment. The farms of New England are deserted and the factories are asking for a new deal. "Protection" doesn't protect.

"The business man of the cabinet" appears not to grasp the profit and loss question when he gets away from the bargain counter. In one breath Postmaster-General Wanamaker recommends reduction of postage, and in the next he states that, "on the basis of estimated business for the fiscal year, the loss to the department by penny postage would be nearly $23,000,000." The country is not suffering for penny postage, but it is suffering from over-taxation, even though that takes the confusing form of tariff levies. No man of business sense should have made the recommendation to reduce postage, with the certainty of a deficit as the resultant.

Not only is Gladstone the grand old man, he is also the wonderful old man. With all the knotty political problems he ponders over, he yet finds time and inclination for literary research and a study on the Olympian religion—the religion of the Greeks as it has been portrayed in the Iliad and the Odessey. The first of these papers is printed in the North American Review for February, the next will appear in March. It is pleasantly discursive, and forcibly argumentative, and reference is given in foot notes to the authors quoted. One can but believe these must be mainly the work of collegiate days revised. The age of miracles is past.

"A clean and able administration" is what the organs are saying. Here are a few counts: empty treasury and juggling to conceal it; Tanner and Raum, with all the names imply; the disgrace of Platt and his New York customs business; the Judge Woods manipulation in reward for blocks-of-five assistance; cabinet interference to prevent Keystone bank failure investigation; Fred Douglass in Hayti and Egan in Chile; sanction of the Force bill and approval of the McKinley abomination; manifest friendship for trusts and monopolies when the slightest occasion presents itself—"clean and able." The only exultation that is honestly indulged in is over Mr. Blaine's perverted democratic plan of expanded commerce with a string tied to it.

Mr. Leander Burdick, member of the gas investigating committee, had an eye to business when he inquired if they were to do the work for nothing. And the Mayor displayed the vaguest idea of business when he responded that it would be all right—that the city, or the trustees, or somebody else would foot the bills. Mr. Burdick also evinced business judgment when he said the services of an expert are desirable. One other member thought a three days' junket would settle the whole problem. The committee assumes a grave responsibility. The people want facts—an unvarnished statement of the condition of the wells and territory, an unprejudiced report. The people of Toledo are very patient and will readily assent to this proposition: "plenty of gas, plenty of bonds; doubtful supply, no bonds." The committee should make a thorough investigation of the whole subject.

SUNDAY IN CHICAGO IN '93.

The Chicago Herald puts it very strongly and justly when it says: "Those who are busy toilers through six days are unanimous in a request that the treasures of the world's fair be open to them on the seventh, and those who have ample leisure during the six days, and who earn their living by vocal labor on the seventh are as unanimous in their demand that the gates be closed on that day." Elizabeth Cady Stanton, in a persuasive paper in the current number of the North American Review, reminds us that though the centennial exposition in Philadelphia was nominally closed on Sunday, yet foreign diplomats, statesmen and millionaires in numbers, spent leisure hours there every Sunday viewing the exhibits as they pleased. Perhaps it is to reserve this exclusive privilege that the contention is for shut doors in '93. Mrs. Stanton rebinds these narrow, selfish people that to prohibit the common people from passing the gates on Sunday will not restrain them from seeking elsewhere for recreation that bears with it no such element of instruction. It will not win them into churches and up to the collection boxes, but will drive them farther away. To prepare the grandest music and compel the most perfect order and make Sunday the day of days for the entire exposition would have something of humanity and philanthropy in it.

STATES PROSPECTIVE.

The proposition to take a slice off Utah to prop Nevada up into a semblance of worthy statehood which it never possessed, is unwurranted effrontery. Utah has a larger population than Montana, Wyoming, Idaho or North Dakota had at the time of their admission. The trouble with Utah is, not the fear of Mormonism; the "gentile" population of Salt Lake City and the territory would cope with that, as it has done, successfully. Local elections, more than any other cause, have had the effect of stamping out polygamy and the power of the church. Shorn of these features the mormon religion can harm not the most devoted member. If it were certain that Utah would march into the Union with a majority of republican votes, her flags would soon be flying in the procession.

New Mexico has more population than any of the states aforesaid when they were bidden to come in, and the flimsy plea of "a mixed population," as applicable to Nevada or Montana as to New Mexico, was never thought of. Arizona has as many people as Wyoming had and more than Nevada has ever counted before or since admission. The only difficulty with these territories is, their democratic proclivities. There is no other disability that would not have applied with equal force to the states lately welcomed with great flourish of trumpets.

The projectors of the coming Marquette club banquet, Chicago, have been notified that neither Henry Cabot Lodge nor John James Ingalls, both of whom were expected to orate, can be present. The Times consoles the club men by reminding them that "as the Hon. B. Butterworth is down for a few words the guests will not be deprived of the spectacle of an orator with his foot in his mouth."

The Ohio gerrymander bill is so outrageously partisan that the press, the country over, teems with reference to it. Not a few of our exchanges ask, as does the Indianapolis Sentinel, "Mr. Harrison, who recently proposed that all honest men unite in opposing gerrymanders.—what says Harrison concerning Ohio?"

The boom for Governor Boies as a presidential candidate receives this endorsement of the Boston Journal, rep., which considers him the best man the democrats could nominate, and graciously says, "There appears to be nothing in his record which would affront the conscience of the country."

The Steubenville Gazette drinks to the health of the McKinley boom, as the successor of the Blaine wave, and says: "Give us McKinley by all means; nothing will please democrats better than to have the tariff issue emphasized."

Right now when the grip has got the civilized world by the throat, Vienna announces a new epidemic; the combination consists of fever and colic. Hopeful it will wait till we get done with chills and backache.

Cardinal Manning died worth less than $1,000 in this world's goods and great praise is heard for the fact and its cause. To be lauded while you live, be rich; to be commended when you die, be poor.

The public debt of the Dominion of Canada is $230,000,000, which must be carried by a population of less than 5,000,000. Let's not annex. We have debt enough of our own.

The Philadelphia Times concludes that "about the only public place in which a vacancy was made and not filled by the late congress is the national treasury."

Branch county, Michigan, ordinarily one of the healthiest counties in the state, has upwards of 3,000 cases of grip, and just sits down discouraged.

Joseph Cook says Lyman Abbott is afflicted with "Pantheistic Hegelianism." Is there a bacillus or germ attached to the disease?

Another epidemic of fire has set in.

THE SILVER BILL.

Bland Wants the Measure Considered February 17.

Washington, Feb. 11.—Mr. Bland introduced the following resolution yesterday: "Resolved, That house bill No. 4426 for the free coinage of gold and silver, for the issue of coin notes and for other purposes, be made the special order immediately after the reading of the journal on Wednesday, Feb. 17, 1892, and that consideration thereof be continued from day to day until disposed of."

"That looks as if you meant to press the silver bill at all times," said a Press reporter to the noted free silver chairman of the free coinage committee.

"Yes, and on all occasions," said Mr. Bland. The resolution was referred to the rules committee.

CAN'T BELIEVE BLAINE.

London, Feb. 11.—The Times this morning comments at length on Mr. Blaine's letter of resignation, and says that it doubts whether Blaine, in spite of this apparent renunciation, will resist an appeal from the republican party if it should appear that Harrison is losing any of his popularity.

NEW TIN VEIN.

Denver, Col., Feb. 11.—A company was organized here yesterday to work a new vein of tin which is said to have been discovered about 50 miles north of here. The vein is reported to be 100 feet in width and to run 15 per cent. in tin.

THE EL RENO TROUBLE.

A MOUNTAIN OF ONYX.

Rich Discovery in Mexico by Two Citizens of El Paso, Tex.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 11.—The discovery of a mountain of onyx 30 miles south of El Paso in Mexico has just been made public. The discovery was made some time since, but was kept secret until the fortunate owners, J. W. Magoffin and R. F. Johnson, both of this city, could perfect a title to the property.

Through the influence of Mexican officials they succeeded in getting a five-year lease from the government on 86,000 acres of land covering the onyx bed. The onyx is of a superior quality, fine grained and beautifully marked with streaks of variegated colors blended across the face of the ledge.

It is only 14 miles west of the Mexican Central railroad and could easily be reached by a spur from that road, and the cost of quarrying would be small, as the face of the mountain is solid onyx and scales off in large slabs, thus making it possible to place it in this city at prices as cheap as common building stone.

FAILURE ANNOUNCED.

Philip Bruns Was Tangled Up in the White Affair.

New York, Feb. 11.—The failure of Philip Bruns, a broker, was announced on the stock exchange yesterday. He has been a member since May, 1849. His liabilities amount to about $400,000, all to personal friends, who were not desirous of pressing their claims, but the publication of the schedule of S. V. White & Co., showing Bruns a debtor to that firm for about $160,000, caused the president of the stock exchange to request him to announce his suspension.

This he did to-day. It is understood his assets are nominal. The liabilities are all long standing and he has no outstanding contracts on the exchange.

ARE AFTER MR. HILL.

The Mass Meeting in Cooper Union To-Night

Will be an Event in the Coming Campaign.

The Mid-Winter Convention Will be Denounced in Strong Terms by Many Brilliant Speakers.

New York, Feb. 11.—The anti-Hill revolt has now taken on so determined a shape, not only in the city, but throughout the state, that the great mass meeting to be held in Cooper Institute to-night promises to make an epoch in the political history of New York state.

The committee of twenty-five in charge of the anti-snap convention movement met at the headquarters and completed the arrangements for the meeting. The resolutions prepared for the convention were approved, and the list of vice presidents was practically completed.

Neither the list of speakers nor of the vice presidents was given out for publication.

Those names were not given out because the committee desired to be perfectly certain that all the men who have been invited to speak have had full opportunity to notify those in charge whether they can accept or not before the announcements to that effect are made.

The letters received from out of town at the headquarters were full of interest, and they all go to show that the anti-February convention sentiment has crystallized throughout the state. A personal letter received by Chairman Anderson said that in Batavia, Genesee county, between 1,000 and 1,100 names of democrats had been signed to the protest against the action of the state committee within forty-eight hours. Forty per cent. of those who signed the protest are men who voted for Hill for governor.

Geo. P. Sawyer, of Buffalo, sent word to Mr. Anderson that the feeling against the snap convention had taken shape in Buffalo, and that Erie county would enter an emphatic protest against Hill's mid-winter convention.

Edward S. Martin, of Rochester, said that he had voted for Hill every time, but that he could not stomach the February convention. "The extreme Hill men are the only democratic voters here who do like it," he wrote.

M. N. Kane, of Warwick, N. Y., notified the committee to-day that a delegation of leading democrats from that section had been appointed to attend the mass meeting Thursday night. "The feeling here is practically unanimous against the 'snap' convention," wrote Mr. Kane. "Every democratic business man in our village has signed the protest. We will send a solid Cleveland delegation to the assembly district convention. A state organization should be formed at once. The people here are very much in earnest."

One of the members of the committee to-day said: "One of the members of the committee of twenty-five has been informed that democrats of Madison county are 'by the ears' over the attempt there to prevent the free expression of opinion in the state convention, even an ex-chairman of the county convention not being able to find out where the caucuses in his own county are to be held.

"The county convention has been called to meet at Morrisville next Friday. The date was passed around to those inside a week ago, but for some reason the call was not issued till last Saturday. What angers the mass of democrats most is that no call has been published for district primaries or the town convention. It is said that the date has been fixed, but that is kept very quiet. At Castonova, in Madison county, Cleveland delegates were elected last Saturday, but the Hill men had promised the people of the town every kind of office from postmaster down in their desperate efforts to capture votes."

Similar reports have been received from nearly every county in the state. The Hill machine is busy grinding out promises of offices to the democrats in the rural districts who are wavering, but despite this kind of a campaign, the sentiment in the state seems to be overwhelmingly against the snap convention and its author.

ANOTHER BUSINESS BLOCK

To be Built Opposite the Bee Building.

Mr. John T. Newton Has Faith in St. Clair Street Property and is Showing it by His Works.

Another handsome business block will be erected on St. Clair street during the approaching season.

John T. Newton has purchased 40 feet between the Garver restaurant building and the corner of the Hicks estate, and will erect a splendid business block on the site during the summer.

This is the second piece Mr. Newton has bought on St. Clair street in this square, the other being the 30 feet adjoining the Bee building on the south, which was closed up a few days ago.

In conversation with a Bee Mr. Newton said: "Yes, I have bought the 40 feet south of Hamlin's drug store on St. Clair street, and expect to erect a business block on the lot this summer. I have considerable confidence in the future value of property on St. Clair street in this square, and I feel certain it makes a safe and remunerative investment.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

A TOLEDO MANUFACTURER

Thinks a Few Thoughts, as Bill Nye Would Say,

Regarding the Present State of City Pipe Line Affairs—He is Inclined to be Sarcastic, Too.

One of Toledo's leading manufacturers, speaking to a Bee of various matters pertaining to municipal affairs, naturally, in running the gamut, drifted into the oft-discussed city gas question, and half soliloquizing, relieved himself as follows:

"While I was reading the recent article in the Bee regarding the gas trustees it struck me as being queer that men running a concern costing $1,000,000, and drawing their salaries of $100 a month with such punctuality—it seems quter, I repeat, that they should have to ask so many questions to find out whether people used meters, or paid their bills, or that there should be $3,000 standing out, and their supply should be cut off or not. Why don't the trustees know more of the details of the business they are conducting? Would Mr. Backus or Mr. Greene permit their own business to be done in this way? Not a bit of it.

"I read further that Trustee Parsons is not a candidate for re-election; that he has got all he wants—that is—trouble—I expect; not anything else, I hope. He thinks Toledo has gas for at least five years. Isn't he the man who has been so confident that we had all the gas we wanted—no end of gas? Queer that he should reach this conclusion after all the expenditure of money. Why, if we had so little gas, did he not know it before, or at least anticipate such a calamity and tread carefully?

"Sixty thousand dollars a month is a good deal. What pressure would be required to bring this amount of gas through the present line? So as to make the average for the year they would have to have receipts in double that amount for at least four months of the year. How much money has the thing earned for six months?

"Mr. Parsons has the general reputation of knowing a good thing when he sees it. I would respectfully ask him how much he would give for the line. His views are so rosy, why not join with the ex-banker and together 'deduce' an offer to the city for the line. It can be bought cheap, say at one-half the cost, and they are both situated to know what the original cost was. I think in the interim that he forgot to mention one of the principal pipe line arguments. He should have said that even if it is a failure it has saved its cost by keeping the Northwestern charges down—yes, he should have said that.

"According to Mr. Parsons, if we are to have gas it will have to be pumped. If this is the case, why send a committee to look at the territory, they can't do any good. Send a committee first to the place where gas is being pumped; go to the bottom of that. It strikes me that the city will find itself not ready to go into the pumping business, but then investigating is the way to get at the matter.

"Mr. Parsons says we have it; it can't grow less, as Dr. Jones will tell you it is making all the time. I think that Trustee Brown knows a good deal and that the committee might confer with him; 'twill save them trouble, and he would be glad to tell them as the members of the committee are old school pipe liners, and are open to any facts of a pipe line flavor."

KILLED IN A WRECK.

Bad Smashup on the Michigan Central.

Tilbury Center, Ont., Feb. 11.—While an eastbound freight train on the Michigan Central railroad was standing on the main line at this station at 5 o'clock this morning it was run into by a westbound train which should have taken a side track.

Both engines and two cars were badly wrecked.

Engineer Deyell, aged 28, of St. Thomas, who was running the westbound engine, was instantly killed. The rest of the trainmen escaped by jumping. Deyell was a cousin of Engineer Deyell who was killed in Chicago in a wreck three weeks ago.

SIX-STORY EDIFICE

To Take the Place of the Gardner Block.

Work Will Commence as Soon as the Present Leases Expire—The Plans Are Perfected.

Slowly but surely the demand for comfortable and convenient offices is awakening the interest and enterprise of Toledo capital. There will be more fine business blocks erected in Toledo within the next year than any other year in the last decade.

An elegant and substantial block will be erected on the site now occupied by the Gardner block on the corner of Madison and Superior streets.

The property is owned by J. H. Gardner, who has the plans perfected for a six-story office building, which will be contracted for just as soon as the lease of the present building expires.

HEIR TO AN ESTATE.

F. B. Dodge Has an Interest in 25,000 Acres

Of Land in Illinois, Which is Considered Very Valuable—The Claimants Meet in Cincinnati.

Mr. F. B. Dodge returned last evening from Cincinnati where he was attending a meeting of the heirs interested in the estate of the great railroad contracting firm of Dodge, Lord & Co.

The firm went out of existence 20 years ago, but the estate has never been settled up, and it was only yesterday that the beginning of the end was reached.

The firm built the Ohio, Illinois & Western railroad and got in part payment 25,000 acres of rich railroad grant in Illinois.

The senior member of the firm was Mr. Dodge's father, but the status of affairs was such that no sub-division could well be made.

At a meeting of the parties interested yesterday one gentleman was appointed to sell out the tract of land as a whole or parcel it out in farms. For 20 years the estate has been paying taxes of about $2,500 a year, and the claimants are willing and anxious to let go. A low price is placed on it at $20 an acre. It will thus realize about $500,000.

Consumption carries off many of its victims needlessly. It can be stopped sometimes; sometimes it cannot.

It is as cruel to raise false hopes as it is weak to yield to false fears.

There is a way to help within the reach of most who are threatened—CAREFUL LIVING and Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil.

Let us send you a book on the subject; free.

THE JUDGMENT.

Thou hast done evil
And given place to the devil;
Yet so cunningly thou concealest
The thing which thou feelest,
That no eye espieth it,
Satan himself denieth it.
Go where it chooseth thee,
There is none that accuseth thee;
Neither foe nor lover
Will the wrong uncover;
The world's breath raiseth thee,
And thy own past praiseth thee.

Yet know thou this:
At quick of thy being
Is an eye, all seeing.
The snake's wit evadeth not,
The charmed lip persuadeth not;
So thoroughly it despiseth
The thing thy hand prizeth,
Tho' the sun were thy clothing,
It should count thee for nothing.
Thine own eye divineth thee,
Thine own soul arraigneth thee;
God himself cannot shrive thee
Till that judge forgive thee.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

Margaret Mather at Wheeler's To-Night.

Heavy Advance Sale of Seats—Alabama Next Monday—A Week of Evangeline—Blue Jeans.

There has been a very large sale of seats for the performance of Margaret Mather at Wheeler's this evening and her engagement promises to be one of the events of this very successful season.

Miss Mather and her excellent company will present a delightful double comedy bill consisting of "The Love Chase" and "Nance Oldfield."

Margaret Mather is a young lady of remarkable talent and the people with her are actors of well known merit.

Alabama.

Augustus Thomas' sweet-toned romance of the south, "Alabama," which will be seen at Wheeler's Monday, February 15, is said to be as far removed from critical exceptions as the brook that purls among the rushes and babbles over the stones and sings the forest half-shadows. "Alabama" is said to present a treatment of southern life entirely different from anything yet essayed upon the stage. Itis more just, more realistic and more delightful in its whole tone than any of its predecessors. Inoffensive, and yet conservative; exquisite in pathos, yet not without sufficient tinge of humor to add savor. Mr. A. M. Palmer's company, which includes Frank Bangs, Odell Williams, Burr McIntosh, Clement Bainbridge, Fred G. Ross, J. G. Saville, Jennie Eustace, Stella Teuton, Frances Kinharvie and Zenaide Vislaire, are presenting the play.

Evangeline.

Rice's Evangeline, a favorite in the line of light opera, will hold the People's theater all of next week.

The cast this season is quite a notable one. James S. Maffit in his great creation of that classic in pantomime, the Lone Fisherman, is still playing his old part and creates as much mirth with his fishing line, telescope and toy boat now as he did on the opening night. Sadie Stephens, who is well known here, plays Gabriel, the dashing country lad who is in love with Evangeline. Miss Ruth Davenport, who is said to be a charming little person with a pure mezzo-soprano voice, is playing Evangeline. Miss Davenport will be remembered as the little lady who was especially brought over from London for the Chicago production of "Babes in the Woods."

George Schiller is intrusted with the famous character of LeBlanc, the funny little notary, whilst Irvin T. Bush portrays fat and Jolly Catharine. Thomas Reilly, as Capt. Dietrich; Bernard J. Reilly, as the policeman; Benjamin J. Miles, as Hans Wagner; Estelle Clinton, as Eulalie, and Ethel Langdon, as Felician, go to make up the balance of the principals. The chorus, which numbers 40, is promised to be as pretty as any Ed Rice ever had, which is saying a great deal.

"Blue Jeans."

One of the successful dramas of the present day will be at Wheeler's February 19 and 20. It is said to be the most natural play on the boards, and is presented by a picked company. A wonderfully clever woman heads the company, and all the members are especially brilliant in their different lines. The scenery and accessories have been prepared specially and the play itself, by Joseph Arthur, has attracted much attention from the critics. There is considerable realism in the play, and the reproduction of a sawmill, with many other novel stage mechanisms, will prove an attraction.

Harmonic Society Concert.

Musical circles are anticipating a treat from the Harmonic society concert at Wheeler's opera house, next Wednesday evening February 17th. A splendid chorous of 100 voices has been in training for the event and they will be assisted by Maud Powell, violinist; Miss Elizabeth Doolittle, soprano, The Whiting Male quartet and the Amphion Ladies' quartet. The concert will be conducted by Mr. Amos Whiting with Miss C. L. Whiting as pianist.

FIFTY YEARS AGO.

Natural Gas Used for Fuel in New York State,

As Shown by a Gazetteer in the Possession of Mr. Doria Tracy, of This City—Some Brief Extracts From the Book.

"Fifty years ago we used natural gas for fuel," said Mr. Doria Tracy to a Bee yesterday. "I have an old book in my possession which shows that natural gas had made its presence known in many places throughout the state over fifty years ago.

Mr. Tracy later brought the book referred to to the Bee, and it is a very interesting publication. It was issued in 1842, and is a gazetteer of the state of New York, giving the topography, geology, etc.

In a description of Chautauqua county is this passage:

"The most interesting object in this county connected with mineralogy is the carburetted hydrogen gas which is here evolved in large quantities. The most remarkable localities are those of Fredonia, Westfield and Van Buren Harbor."

Under the head of Fredonia occurs this interesting paragraph:

"Here is situated an inflammable spring near the bed of the Canadoway creek. The gas which escapes from the same in great quantities, is used for lighting the streets and for domestic purposes. The flame is large but not as strong or brilliant as that from gas in our cities. It is, however, in high favor with the inhabitants. The gas is carburetted hydrogen and is supposed to come from beds of bituminous coal. The only rock, however, visible here and to a great extent along the southern shore of the lake is foeted limestone."

Mr. Tracy says gas is still found in some of these localities, but no effort has been made, it seems, to develop it.

THE GREEK SAILORS.

They Deny the Sensational Stories Told About Them.

London, Feb. 11.—The Greek seamen rescued from the steamer Embiricos, recently wrecked off the Scilly islands, have arrived at Cardiff, where they have been interviewed in regard to certain sensational reports circulated in regard to their conduct before and after the wreck of that steamer.

The rescued seamen emphatically deny that there is any truth in the rumor that they mutinied and murdered their English officers at the time or before the Embiricos went ashore.

They also deny that they seized a boat and excluded others from it soon after the steamer brought up on the rocks.

MISTAKEN FOR CHICKEN THIEF.

Springfield, O., Feb. 11.—Police Officer Bishop had a thrilling experience to-day. He heard some chickens squalling in B. A. Ormsbee's yard on Lagonda avenue, and on investigating was mistaken by Mr. Ormsbee and shot at for a chicken thief, the bullet cutting off a lock of hair from Bishop's head.

OHIO LIQUOR LEAGUE.

Yesterday's Meeting Showed an Increased Membership.

Cincinnati, Feb. 11.—The Ohio state liquor league met yesterday at Gerdes' hotel, this city, with J. M. Kammeron in the chair and Otto Zirker, of Cleveland, as secretary. Reports from various parts of the state were received.

Toledo reports that all the saloonists, cigar, mineral-water sellers and breweries are members. Cleveland made the same report. Columbus has 100 members, while Canton has sixty. Urbana, Akron and New Straitsville report that all saloonists are members. All the breweries of this city save one are members—there being a membership of about 1,000. Messrs. P. Cunningham of Cleveland, I. F. Hughes of New Straightsville, and F. Wagenherght were appointed an auditing committee.

LAWYER KILLS A MAN IN HIS OFFICE.

Sedalia, Mo., Feb. 11.—Wm. J. Condon, a Missouri Pacific brakeman, was shot and killed by Lawyer William Parmelee in the latter's office this morning. The trouble grew out of the garnishment of Condon's salary by Parmelee. Condon leaves a wife and two children. Parmelee claims Condon had repeatedly threatened his life, and he shot in self-defense.

STARVING HERSELF TO DEATH.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 11.—Ida Johnson, who made an unsuccessful attempt to poison herself at the police station Saturday night, now appears determined to starve herself to death. She has eaten nothing since the poison was boiled out, and refuses to take nourishment. The unfortunate girl is in a state of despondency, from which it is difficult to arouse her.

THE COTTON CROP.

February Report of the Agricultural Department.

The Quality is the Highest for Many Years—Cotton Seed Selling at Low Prices.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The February cotton report of the statistician of the department of agriculture relates to the proportion marketed, quality, yield of lint, close of picking season, losses by insects and price of seed. The proportion sent from plantations as estimated by reporters and accurately consolidated, is as follows:

Virginia 80; North Carolina 82; South Carolina 90; Georgia 92; Florida 92; Alabama 91; Mississippi 88; Louisiana 87; Texas 86; Arkansas 88; Tennessee 89; Missouri 88. General average 88.3 per cent.

Returns of comparisons with the crop of last year are: Virginia 78; North Carolina 79; South Carolina 82; Georgia 85; Florida 84; Alabama 92; Mississippi 96; Louisiana 99; Texas 107; Arkansas 96; Tennessee 91; Missouri, etc., 90. General average 94.3 per cent.

The returns are remarkably consistent as their indicated results vary by less than 1 per cent., indicating a crop about half a million bales short of that of 1890. The October reports of the two years make almost an identical difference. These results are submitted without comment. The estimated average time of close of picking is, by states:

Virginia, December 11; North Carolina, December 10; South Carolina, December 10; South Carolina, December 8; Georgia, December 4; Florida, November 20; Alabama, December 2; Mississippi, December 10; Louisiana, December 12; Texas, December 4; Arkansas, December 12; Tennessee, December 12; Missouri, December 13.

The quality is the highest for many years. Staple medium are somewhat short, color excellent, and unusually free from brash. The low price of cotton and disappointment in money returns have led to a large sale of seed to oil mills at prices somewhat reduced as follows:

Virginia, 14c per bushel; North Carolina, 14c; South Carolina, 14.5c; Georgia, 14.5c; Florida, 14c; Alabama, 13c; Mississippi, 12c; Louisiana, 11c; Texas, 11c; Arkansas, 11c; Tennessee, 13c; Missouri, etc., 11c. On the Atlantic coast the larger use of seed for fertilization makes a relatively high price.

Losses from insects were not very serious and were mainly confined to the gulf coast states. The boll worm was nearly as destructive as the caterpiller.

NORRIS' LATEST.

He is After Tom O'Brien, the Notorious Bunkoist.

Columbus, O., Feb. 11.—Detective John T. Norris has secured requisitions for Tom O'Brien, the noted swindler, recently extradited from London, England, to answer for "shaking down" a man named Peck for $10,000.

It is alleged that O'Brien in 1887 "wheedled" a farmer of Pickaway county out of $5,000, for which he was indicted. The New York police do not admire John T. Norris, and the latter, expecting that they will fight him on technicalities, has obtained requisition papers made out in several different forms, in which Norris is named directly or indirectly as the agent of the state for extradition of O'Brien.

These various papers were secured by Norris while Governor Campbell was in office, presumably, but prior to the trouble which caused Governor Campbell to revoke Norris' commission as an officer of the Big Four.

A BLAZE IN CINCINNATI.

Much Destruction Wrought by the Flames.

Two Hundred Thousand Dollars Contributed to the Fire Waste by the Queen City.

Cincinnati, Feb. 11.—A fire which in its destructiveness was the most far-reaching of any ever before in Cincinnati, started early last evening in the building occupied by Messrs. Ezekiel & Bernheim, auctioneers and storage commission dealers.

It is situated on the east side of Main street, fronting 25 feet, and extends back 180 feet to Hammond street.

Next door north of it is the ware and salesrooms of the American Oak Leather company, of the same dimensions. The two buildings constitute a block, and are five stories high.

The fire pretty thoroughly destroyed the portion occupied by Ezekiel & Bernheim and badly wrecked the portion of the building occupied by the American Oak Leather company.

On Main street next door south of Ezekiel & Bernheim's, is the Commercial National bank. Also next south of the same building on Hammond street is the Hammond street police station. The roof of the Commercial bank has been crushed in and the building greatly damaged. The roof and walls of the Hammond street police station were also badly crushed in the same manner.

The two buildings were the scene of a great mid-winter fire in 1878, when occupied by Pollak Wilson. The portion occupied as auction and storage rooms belongs to the Fosdick heirs. That occupied by the American Oak Leather company is owned by the Carlisle estate.

The loss on the two structures will be probably $60,000. In the Ezekiel & Bernheim building the goods consist of consignments of goods from all parts of the country for sale. Among these is a large consignment of valuable books from Bristol, England; a consignment of carved furniture from Rome, Italy.

The storage department contained the household goods of 150 families who are absent abroad. It also contained a large collection of valuable paintings, the work of Henry Mosler, the artist.

The Commercial bank building was a two-story structure and is totally destroyed, crushed to the ground by falling walls. Loss, $8,000.

Simon Fletcher, dealer in government goods, occupied the first story of the bank building. His loss by the destruction of the building will be $10,000.

The owners of the property destroyed reside in remote suburbs or as in the case of stored and consigned goods are absent traveling, which renders it impossible to obtain insurance.

The total loss will be fully $200,000.

A slight cold, if neglected, often attacks the lungs. Brown's Bronchial Troches give sure and immediate relief. Sold only in boxes. Price 25 cents.

To partially supply the loss of natural flavor and color caused by this treatment, fragrant gums and dyes are used.

DR. SIDNEY RINGER, Professor of Medicine at University College, London, and Physician to the College Hospital, perhaps the greatest English authority on the action of drugs, states in his "Handbook of Therapeutics" that "the sustained administration of alkalies and their carbonates renders the blood it is said, poorer in solids and in red corpuscles, and impairs the nutrition of the body." Of ammonia, carbonate of ammonia, and spirits of ammonia, he says: "These preparations have many properties in common with the alkaline, potash, and soda group. They possess a strong alkaline reaction, are freely soluble in water, have a high diffusion-power, and dissolve the animal textures. . . . If administered too long, they excite catarrh of the stomach and intestines."

By Mrs. Cross and Mrs. Ward—A New "Unknown"—Magazines of the Month—Notes.

Ada Cambridge is the pen name of an English author, the wife of the Rev. G. F. Cross. Since 1870, their home has been in Australia and three bright, enjoyable stories which give, incidentally, pictures of scenery and of home life in that interesting island-continent, have been the fruits of her pen. "Not All in Vain," the last of these, will doubtless be pronounced the best of them in the fine analytical treatment of human natures, reasonable development, and the well-sustained interest to the close of the long story. The plot is felicitous and original, and the characters, like those of George Eliot, are consistent to the end, even to the possible marring of the finale, in the minds of some readers.

The descriptions of the English "Fen country," in England, and the "Australian bush," never could have been written by one who had not studied them in their different aspects, and as a picture in colors, lights and shadows. Katherine Knowles, the heroine, and Forbes Alexander, the hero, are well-drawn, living personalities. One wonders, during the course of the long voyage from England to Australia, why Mrs. Brodie and Elvira and Mrs. Bellamy are so minutely dealt with, but like Dickens' actors, they all drop into their niches and are necessary to the denouement. Mrs. Cross shows herself a keen observer and the story is a capital one, both for itself and in the charm of the telling. No. 87 in Appleton's Town and Country Library; 50 cents. For sale in Toledo by Brown, Eager & Hull.

The promised new novel by Mrs. Humphrey Ward is on the market: "The History of David Grieve." It is an earnest, purposeful story into the writing of which thought and care have entered. The poor cramped childhood of little David in the North country, must be a picture of real life in its minute details. His escape to Manchester, his struggles and the development of his character enlist the heartiest sympathy of the reader, and David's fate becomes a matter of intense interest. His handsome sister Louie, with a terror of a temper, homely Uncle Reuben and crafty Aunt Hannah, the sparkling, loving, tantalizing Elise, gentle Lucy and self-contained, patient Dora, are all well drawn characters. The incursion into the rich romance field of art student life in Paris furnishes the most artistic portion of the book and throws well-defined shadows of that dream-life onto the canvas. It is the musk of roses, then the ashes. Some readers will wish David had received his life lesson in another school. A novel is always unsatisfactory when all the ardor, romance and love of life is expended on an unworthy object, and some patient soul in the background comes forward to gather up the pieces and brings a serene calm upon the scene of disaster, caused by a wrecked or out-worn passion.

In this volume, less than in Robert Elsmere, is one underlying purpose and idea worked out. There is more analysis of character in the light of its environment, and weighted by inheritance, more design in the sketching and detail for the sake of study and harmony than for the "argument" and the impression to be carried away. There is innate nobility in David's character, but the artistic and poetic element in his nature is so influenced by his misfortune and unhappiness, that it becomes after one brief blissful season scarcely more than painful memory. Life in enchanting seductive Paris and life in busy commercial Manchester are the antipodes. David strikes solid ground at last in his union with the gentle Lucy, whose beautiful life and death win him to the Christian's faith and patience. There is a deal of dying in the book, but David is left, and Elise whom he once loved to distraction and Dora who loves him, are also in the world at the close. So the imaginative reader may think on ahead and conjure a finale for himself. Published by McMillan & Co. in their one-dollar series. For sale in Toledo by Brown, Eager & Hull.

Two thoroughly morbid and grewsome stories, though not the less interesting for that reason, are "Through the Red-Litten Windows" and "The Old River House." They are issued as No. 11 in the now widely-read "Unknown" library, by the Cassell Publishing company. Bound in flexible cloth, price 50 cents; for sale by Brown, Eager & Hull.

Charles Scribner's Sons, N. Y., publish a comprehensive French Literature Manual of which H. G. Keene, M. A., is author. The chapters comprise, the age of infancy; of adolescence; of glory (three divisions); of reason; of nature; sources of modern French art; poetry, and sources of prose fiction. Abundant quotations are given but the author does not intrude criticisms and opinions. A valuable aid to the student of the literature of different peoples. Price $1. For sale by Brown, Eager & Hull.

The Horse is the latest publication in the Modern Science Series, edited by Sir John Lubbock and published by the Appleton house, N. Y. The present study is by William Henry Flower, C. B., author of numerous natural history volumes. Every person who owns, drives or cares for a horse should possess himself of this complete little manual of information. For sale by Brown, Eager & Hull, Toledo.

"All Poetry" is the reassuring title of a selection of English verse by Clinton Collins, published by Keating & Co., Cincinnati, on fine quality paper in flexible leatheroid covers. A collection of old-time favorites neatly put together.

Delsartean Physical Culture, by Carrica Le Favre, arranged for seminaries, classes, private teachers and individuals, is published by Fowler & Wells Co., New York, and can be had in paper covers for 25 cents.

Indian Idyls, by an Indian Exile, is an extra number in Cassell & Co.'s Sunshine Series. Apprehending that the tales will remind the reader of Kipling, he is assured that they were written from personal observation and experiences long before that young author began his work. They are well-told and evidently by one familiar with India and its people.

Pretty Michal, a free translation of Maurus Jokai's "A Szep Mikhal," by R. N. Bain, is another issue in the same series; 50 cents a number (paper covers).

Magazines.

The leading article in the Magazine of Art for February is on John Russell, R. A., "the prince of crayon portrait painters," and the frontispiece is a photogravure from one of his most beautiful portraits, the original of which is supposed to have been Miss Jane Faden, the artist's sister-in-law. There are several reproductions from his best known crayons in this article. "Artistic Homes" is the title of a paper by Reginald Blomfield which shows some of the best work of modern English architects. "Two Winter Exhibitions:" the "Royal Society of British Artists," and the "Institute of Painters in Oil Colors," profusely and admirably illustrated are written by Fred'k Wedmore. "Book Edge Decoration" suggests a new field of work for the decorative artist. The second paper on "The Dulwich Gallery" with reproductions from its rarest treasures is given.

The current number of the Magazine of American History presents a fine plate of the Electoral Commission of 1877, and publishes a portion of the minority report of that commission, never before given to the public. The original of the picture was sold to the government in March, 1886, and hangs in the corridor leading to the gallery of the senate. The Enterprise of Columbus; the Virginia of the Revolutionary Period and Slavery in the Territories are three notable papers. It is a matter of current wonder that Mrs. Lamb can find, each month, so much valuable fresh and entertaining historic matter.

Notes.

Appleton & Co. announce their "Holland Fiction Series," which will introduce American readers to a new field of literature. Eline Vere, a romance crowned by the Dutch Academy; Suspected, by Louisa Stratenus; Footsteps of Fate, by Louis Coopterus, and a new story by Maarten Maartens, author of Joost Avelingh, which created a great interest in the reading world, are among the first numbers to be issued. The series will have a specially designed, uniform binding and cover. The Appletons make no mistakes in their serial fiction, and the "Holland" books may be anticipated with confidence.

The new Scribner's Magazine has completed its fifth year and publishes a neat list of articles, authors and illustrations, in cloth covers, together with a brief sketch of its history and mention of contributors. It is designed to publish such a well-arranged index once in five years. Volume and page are given and for those who have bound volumes it will be a great aid. The publishers announce constant increase in circulation and enlarged facilities for future publications.

THE SPRINGER WOOL BILL.

The Document is Almost Completed.

A Measure That Should be Hailed with Joy by the Working Masses of the Country.

Washington, Feb. 11.—There has been a substantial agreement reached by the wool and woolens special committee of the democratic majority of the house on ways and means on the provisions of the wool bill.

This special committee by agreement among the democratic members was charged with the duty of considering the Springer wool bill, drafting any proposed modifications and gathering special information relating to wool growing and woolen manufacturers.

Its members have agreed upon the changes in duties they will recommend, and a conference of the democratic members of the committee has been called at which the matter will be formally considered.

As the special committee numbers 5 out of the 10 democratic members of the ways and means committee it is believed that the agreement reached embodies the provisions of the free wool bill which the ways and means committee will recommend to the house for passage.

The changes to be made in the bill as introduced by Mr. Springer have not yet been formally drafted, and it will be some days before the bill is put in shape. Very substantial reductions have been made in the duties on woolen manufactures proposed by the bill as introduced by Mr. Springer.

The ad valorem duties on woolen dress goods, carpets and all other woolen articles imposed under the McKinley law, and which rates were left unchanged by the Springer bill, have been cut down wherever in excess of 40 per cent. and the average rate of duty proposed by the new bill on woolen manufactures is about 5 per cent. below the uniform rate of 40 cent. fixed by the Mills bill.

Under the agreement wool is made free, as proposed by the Springer bill, all duties on woolen manufactures where 40 per cent. or less than under the present law are unchanged; where more than 40 per cent. they are reduced to that rate, so that no woolen duties will be higher than the Mills rate, and those on the cheaper grades of goods will be less.

Under the McKinley law duties range from 30 to 60 per cent., so that there is a reduction of 20 per cent. made from the highest rate now imposed, and the average rate is brought down to about 35 per cent. On shoddies and waste the agreement adopts the Springer rate of 30 per cent., against the present rate of 30 cents per pound.

All compensatory duties, of course, are taken off as raw wool is made free, so that the present per pound and per yard duties will be abolished if the bill becomes a law, and only ad volorem duties retained.

FOUR HUSBANDS.

Experimenting Until She Found a Good One.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Feb. 11.—Aniza Williams, a woman with four husbands, has been committed to the county jail on a charge of bigamy. When Seth Williams, husband No. 4, married the woman, he thought she was single. When they quarreled the wife showed her husband four wedding rings, and she said she could keep on adding to the number until she got the right man. This angered the husband, and he swore out a warrant for her arrest.

Prevalence of Kidney Disease.

The large demand, in this and foreign lands, for BUCHU-PAIBA is the best evidence of its reliability as a remedy in Kidney and Genito-Urinary diseases, affections of the Bladder, &c. The increase in Kidney Complaints in this country in recent years has been arrested to a great extent through the merits of this new remedy BUCHU-PAIBA, which without doubt is the best known treatment for irritation, inflammation and catarrh of the Bladder, and the various diseased Genito-Urinary discharges. It is put up in convenient bottles that sell for $1.00 at Druggists or Chemists, or may be had of the manufacturer, express prepaid, by forwarding $1.00 to E. S. Wells, Jersey City, N. J.

Cockroaches, Ants,

Beetles, water bugs. The most effective and permanent remedy is—for two or three nights to sprinkle ROUGH ON RATS dry powder unmixed, on, in, about and down the sink and drain pipe; scatter it well but thinly all over the sink. First thing in the morning wash it all away down the drain pipe, repeat two or three nights, when all the insects from garret to cellar will disappear. The secret of this is in the fact that wherever the bugs or insects may be during the day, they must go to the sinks for water during the night. They can't stand ROUGH ON RATS in their water. This is the quickest, most effective and satisfactory remedy. ROUGH ON RATS being a poison, it should be used in this way only at night and washed away early in the morning. Another way is to mix a tablespoonful of ROUGH ON RATS with a half pound of brown sugar. Sprinkle it on rear of cupboard shelves or on plates, or on sheets of paper placed high out of reach of children.

DOES THIS MEAN YOU?

Better Read It At Any Rate.

Many a man who formerly possessed a powerful physique and strong, steady nerves, wonders at his feeling of weakness, dullness, exhaustion. There is an extremely nervous condition, a dull, cloudy sensation, disagreeable feelings in head and eyes, bad taste in mouth mornings, the vision becomes dim, memory is impaired, and there is frequent dizziness, despondency and depression of mind. The nerves become so weakened that the least shock will flush the face or bring on a trembling with palpitation.

Luckily, there is the great and wonderful restorative, Dr. Greene's Nervura, which will give back to the weakened and exhausted system the strength it has lost, imparts vigor to brain and nerves, vitalizes and invigorates the physical powers, dispels despondency and restores again that grand degree of lusty strength and power which in ignorance or folly we have exhausted. Druggists sell it, $1. Purely vegetable and harmless. Try it and you will never regret it.

"I deem it my duty to the public to state the wonderful effects of Dr. Greene's Nervura in my case. My improvement has been most gratifying, and language cannot describe the change in my feelings and prospects. Where all was gloom and despondency, there is now light and hope. I gained 13 pounds, and am still gaining. Not alone myself, but I know many others who can testify to the merits of Dr. Greene's Nervura.

THE BOOM TOWN AT WORK

Ambitious Cities, Which Won't Take to Progress,

Can Get Pointers From the Northwest.

How Minneapolis and St. Paul Will Care for the Visitors at the Republican National Convention.

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 11.—Convention matters are progressing rapidly, and the plans for the accommodation of the great crowds attending the republican convention are crystalizing. It is to be the pride of the great northwest, and the "Twin Cities," St. Paul and Minneapolis, are taking steps which will ultimately result in Minneapolis giving one of the greatest conventions ever held in America. There will be a hall unequaled, and all the delegations, the press and public, will be cared for in a sumptuous manner. David Adler, world famous as the designer of the Chicago auditorium, and for many years past widely celebrated as the special architect for the national political conventions of both the leading parties wherever held in the United States, to-day hands in his report. He says:

"Arrangements for the conversion of the Minneapolis exposition building into a hall for the republican national convention have progressed sufficiently to justify the prediction that Minneapolis will furnish the republican party the best convention hall yet constructed in this country. While at first glance nothing can be imagined farther from the requirements of a good convention hall than the Minneapolis exposition building, which is a building about 300x250 feet, divided into three stories with a light well in the center, yet the willingness of the owners of the building to permit the removal from the interior of a large portion of these floors and the opening up in that way of the entire internal space into a large, magnificent room, has given us all to be required for the accomplishment of the result above predicted.

"The plan of arrangement first contemplated by my firm involved the utilization for seating purposes of every square inch of space in the exposition building. This, however, would have required the tearing out of so much of the interior of the building that the more conservative and timid of the owners of the building would not consent to the execution of this project. The arrangement now agreed upon leaves untouched 52 feet in width of the floors all around the building and reduces the seating capacity of about 2,000 from that first contemplated, but of the remaining seats—of which there will be between 10,000 and 11,000—every one will command a free and unobstructed view of the entire space occupied by the delegates. Every spectator in the hall will be able to see and hear every one who may rise to speak in the body of the delegates or on the rostrum. In a general way the hall may be described as follows:

"In the center there will be a space nearly square, which will be occupied by the delegates, for whom settees or opera chairs will be provided. The aisles will be so arranged as to render easy the approach to the seats themselves and communication between the different delegations.

"Immediately in front of the space occupied by the delegates and extending across its entire width will be an elevated rostrum, in the center of which will be another elevation, which is to be occupied by the chairman of the convention, the clerk of the convention and the stand for the speakers. Immediately behind this will be seats for the national committee and for the honored guests of the convention. To each side of the rostrum for the officers of the convention will be tables; first for the representatives of the United Press, and for the chief representatives of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies, then for reporters of the leading dailies of the country; in addition to these will be chairs for those representatives of the press engaged in the immediate work for making verbatim reports of proceedings, and those engaged in description writing, etc.

"The seats for the spectators will rise before described on a method of stepping technically known as the 'Isacoustic curve,' the purpose and effect of which is to give the best and most effective combination of sight and sound lines known to modern science.

It is safe to assume that each person seated in the house will be able to take in at one glance the faces of at least 3,000 people. Barring the difference as between the curvilinear and the rectangular plan, the conditions resemble more those of the Roman amphitheatre than those of the interior of any modern structure.

"The means of ingress and egress will be similar to those in use at the various music festivals and conventions held in former times in our exposition building and now in use in the auditorium. The seats will be sub-divided into comparatively small sections each with separate entrance, and such arrangements will be made in the printing and designating of the tickets that the entire mammoth audience can be seated as rapidly as the audience of an ordinary theatre. The arrangements made for the comfort and convenience of the representatives of the press and for the telegraph companies will be, thanks to some particulars of plan of the existing building, better than could have been hoped for in any existing structure, far better even than they were in the auditorium in 1888. Committee rooms, cloak rooms, restaurants, etc., are being arranged for on the most liberal scale.

"The citizens of Minneapolis have taken hold of the preparations for this convention with a zeal and enthusiasm that promises great results. Men of the highest business standing seem ready and at hand for committee work. Their only purpose seems to be that of making the convetion a success and a source of pride to their city.

"To supplement existing hotel accommodations, it appears that arrangements are being made to convert a number of new, and as yet but partially occupied, office buildings into temporary hotels for the time of the convention. These buildings are magnificent structures and of mammoth proportions.

"Contracts are being made for furnishing these offices for sleeping rooms, for headquarters of delegations, etc., in a manner and to an extent that will equal the ordinary hotel accommodations of the city. A canvass of the city is also being made to ascertain what rooms in private residences can be secured for the accommodation of visitors to the convention; a directory of these will then be made and committees for correspondence with delegates and visitors generally have already been appointed, and arrangements are being made for meeting the trains an hour or two before they arrive in Minneapolis and guiding visitors to the places in which they will be quartered during the convention. In fact it appears almost as if visitors to the convention at Minneapolis would be better cared for than they would be if they were to come a city with as many hotels as Chicago, where every one would be left to his own devices to find the best quarters he could.

"Very truly yours, D. ADLER."

NAVAJOS ON THE WAR PATH

Indians Go Gunning for Some Cattle,

And a Band of Cowboys in Turn Go Gunning for Some Indians.

Coolidge, N. M., Feb. 11.—The Navajo Indians, of New Mexico, have gone on the warpath and threatens the lives of all white men.

The trouble between the Navajo Indians and the cattlemen arose on account of renegade Indians killing cattle.

Chief Mariano was requested 10 days ago to remove the Indians. This was granted, but Tuesday three Indians were found coming down the trail toward Chavez and the cowboys ordered them back. They started back and on the bluff built a single fire.

Soon 40 renegade Indians came to their assistance in defiance of the cowboys and their promise not to trespass. There were no cowboys at Chavez at that time, but the Indians claimed that their deserted camp had been burned by cowboys and that they were going to get even.

The Indians threatened to burn a San Antonio ranch occupied by a cattleman named Coddington and they left Chavez, going in that direction.

Harry Cody, mother and two men were at the ranch. Fifteen armed cowboys immediately left for the ranch, which is 16 miles distant, arriving at 9 p. m., but all was quite.

The cowboys remained at the ranch until noon, but could discover no Indians. Lieut. Wallace, troop H., second cavalry, and 10 men from Fort Wingate with pack mules passed Coolidge on their way to San Antonio ranch with orders to remain there several days and to be ready to quell any hostilities on the part of the Indians. This evening everything is reported quite at and in the vicinity of Chavez.

GOSSIP FROM FINDLAY.

A Batch of Prisoners Plead Guilty.

Death of James H. Wilson—Work to Commence on the Rawson Block—General Mention.

Findlay, Feb. 11.—(Special)—James H. Wilson, one of the pioneer residents of this city and northwestern Ohio, died last evening at his residence on West Sandusky street, at the advanced age of 89 years. He came to Findlay in 1832, and has since resided here. When he came there were but 12 white families here. He has filled many positions of trust, and for the past 22 years has been one of the heavy stockholders and directors of the First National bank. He was a successful merchant and accumulated a large amount of property. He was born in York county, Pa., in 1803. The funeral occurs on Friday afternoon.

Prisoners Plead Guilty.

Three of the prisoners indicted by the last grand jury were arraigned before Judge Johnson yesterday. William Fox plead guilty to stealing a copper kettle and other articles. He was sent to jail for 10 days and fined $5 and costs.

Thos. Williams, who stole a trunk from the L. E. & W. depot, plead not guilty. His trial occurs on the 22d. He is suffering with hemorrhage of the lungs and cannot live very long.

Assault to Kill.

James H. Wonbush, a well-known colored man, is in durance vile under the serious charge, preferred by his wife, of attempting to cut her throat with a razor on Tuesday evening, while intoxicated. He had a hearing before Mayor Meehan yesterday, and was placed under a $300 bond. Some years ago he was well-to-do and well thought of.

Died.

Solomon Struber, a stone cutter, died yesterday after a lingering illness, with consumption. He was an industrious young man and well thought of.

THE MESSAGE OF THE BELLS.

The vicar of Doncaster, England, found the accompanying lines, written in pencil on the walls of the belfry of the parish church. They handily define "ringing," "chiming" and "tolling:"

"To call the folks to church in time,
I chime.
When mirth and pleasure's on the wing,
I ring.
When from the body parts the soul,
I toll."

ROBBER HEDSPETH IN HOC

A Dangerous Man Placed Behind the Bars.

A Revolver in Each Hand When Taken in.

He is Regarded as a Desperate Man and the Police Are Glad They Were Not Obliged to Shoot.

San Francisco, Feb. 11.—Marion Hedspeth, the noted Missouri desperado, who is wanted in St. Louis for connection with the Glendale, Mo., train robbery, was arrested at the point of a pistol at the postoffice here by Capt. Lees and a detail of detectives.

Hedspeth was taken to Lees' office where two revolvers, a roll of greenbacks aggregating $800, $200 in gold and a number of diamond rings and other jewelry were found on him.

Hedspeth took his arrest good-naturedly and said he was willing to return to St. Louis without requisition papers.

The detectives had information that Hedspeth was in town and suspecting that he was in communication with friends in the east had determined to wait for him at the postoffice and surprise him when he called for his mail.

Watch was kept up for weeks, but it was not until yesterday that he put in an appearance. At 11:10 o'clock this morning when he walked down Washington street and turned into the postoffice, Detective Byram was standing on Washington street and followed him.

The detective did nothing until Hedspeth had mounted the stairs and was about to cross the threshold leading to the hall upon which the delivery windows face. In a recess near the place Detectives Lees and Silvey and Policemen Campbell and Cody were stationed.

At a signal from Lees, Byram grasped Hedspeth from behind and pinned his arms to his sides. The other officers then presented their pistols and pointed them at Hedspeth, Capt. Lees remarking: "Take your hands out of your pockets or I'll kill you."

Reluctantly Hedspeth obeyed the command and was rushed into a room in the postoffice, after which he was taken to police headquarters. Eastern authorities were at once notified, but Hedspeth's identity was not disclosed here for some hours after the arrest was made.

Hedspeth stated he had been keeping watch on the police and was better informed of what they were doing than the officers were of his movements.

"I gave the police a hot chase," he said, "and, to tell the truth, I did not expect to be taken in."

"Where were you when your wife was arrested?" was asked.

"I was at 772 Tenth street, Oakland, at the time. She is innocent of any crime and I have no doubt but that she will go free in a short time."

"Were you in concealment most of the time?"

"No; on the other hand, I have attended theaters and gone around to public places, and made no special endeavors to avoid arrest."

"I regard Hedspeth as one of the most dangerous criminals in the United States," said Capt. Lees, "and I feel thankful he was taken without a fight. His wife and Slye warned us to be careful, or he would kill some one. It was fortunate that he did not, as when Byram clutched him he had a pistol in each hand in his overcoat pockets. Since he has been in California Hedspeth has committed a number of crimes, and is suspected of having broken open a number of safes in Oakland."

Later in the day Hedspeth was locked up in the "tanks" at the city prison. In addition to his other accomplishments he has the reputation of being an experienced jail breaker, and four times has succeeded in making his escape from behind stone walls and iron bars. For this reason, as long as he remains in the city prison he will be guarded day and night by an officer detailed for that purpose. Requisition papers were sent out here for him at the time of Slye's arrest, and they have been forwarded to Sacramento for indorsement by Gov. Markham. When arrested Hedspeth had just received five letters from the delivery clerk at the postoffice. They were addressed to "A. V. Swanson."

DELAMATER FAILURE AGAIN.

Meadville, Pa., Feb. 11.—The cases of the commonwealth against the assigned banking firm of Delamater & Co. were begun before Judge Henderson today, and the time from 11 o'clock a. m. to the close of court was occupied in argument on the motion of the defendant's attorney to quash the indictment, which motion was overruled.

ANOTHER CHICAGO MYSTERY

They Come Too Fast for Police to Unravel.

Mrs. Isabelle Farquhar, Fleeing From Her Husband, Found Dying in a Hallway.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—The young woman who was found in a dimly-lighted hallway at No. 40 Franklin street Monday evening in a dying condition, and who died in the ambulance while being removed to the hospital, was yesterday identified as Mrs. Isabelle Farquhar, who came to Chicago recently from New York city.

The identification, however, only deepens the mystery which surrounds the woman's death.

About 2 o'clock Monday afternoon Mrs. Farquhar was seen several miles from the spot where she was found dying six hours later. She was then endeavoring to find rooms in which she might conceal herself for a few weeks from a man she claimed as her husband, with whom she had had trouble, and of whom she was in great terror.

She succeeded in finding rooms at No. 375 Center street. She paid for them in advance and then left the house, saying she would be back before evening.

CATARRH, so very common in this climate, is not a local disease as is generally supposed, but is constitutional, showing itself locally in some of the mucous membranes of the body, and to remove it permanently you have to remove the cause. In fact the only way of treating any disease is by removing the cause that produces it, and nature will do the rest. This is the manner in which we treat all diseases under our specialties and the secret of our success is in the ability to determine the starting point or cause of your trouble.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS OR LOSS OF MANHOOD, AND ERRORS OF YOUTH, POSITIVELY CURED.

PILES permanently cured without the use of a knife or any surgical operation whatever. POSITIVELY NO CASE TAKEN THAT CANNOT BE CURED.

A TRUTH FROM "TRUTH."

The New York Central is really first-class in all its appointments. Think of it, it has four tracks laid with the heaviest of steel rails in the most substantial manner, and when you are sleeping or lounging around in one of their superb Wagner cars, and flying along at the rate of nearly a mile a minute, as some of their fast expresses do, you will hardly realize that you are moving, so excellent is the permanent way. A short time ago a special train made the run from New York to Buffalo at the rate of a mile a minute the entire distance.

AGAINST THE WABASH.

Decision by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

A Railroad Must Not Discriminate—The Case in Point Fully Described.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The Interstate commerce commission has announced its decision in the case of Murphy, Wasey & Co. against the Wabash and other railroad companies in favor of complainants who ship chair stuff, bed and mattress material in mixed carloads from their factory in Detroit to their other factory in Omaha.

On chair stuff for example they are charged as much per hundred weight under the western classification for the transportation from Chicago or Mississippi river points, as the route may be, as for the more bulky finished article.

The commission affirms its power and duty to fix maximum charges in cases where complaint is made of unreasonable rates. The points decided are briefly as follows: A carrier should receive a greater compensation in the aggregate for hauling a carload of large tonnage than one of less tonnage but other things being equal, as a general rule, the rate per hundred weight should be less in the former than in the latter case.

A maximum rate is prescribed for complainant's shipments in the mixed carloads of chair stuff, spring bed and mattress material all wooden minimum weight, 25,000 pounds of not exceeding 20 cents per hundred pounds from Mississippi river points in Omaha, resulting in a through rate from Detroit to Omaha via Chicago of 30 cents per hundred pounds and via Mississippi river points not through Chicago of 31 1-2 cents per hundred pounds.

JILTED ON HER WEDDING DAY.

Miss Stella Hague, of Ohio, Sues an Indiana Man for Breach of Promise.

Valparaiso, Ind., Feb. 11.—Miss Stella Hague, of Shreve, O., has filed a breach-of-promise suit for $5,000 damages in the circuit court against E. R. Aylesworth, a boot and shoe merchant of this city.

The two young people have been lovers for several years. Dr. Samuel H. Hague, the father, is one of the leading practitioners of Shreve, and Miss Stella is the belle of the village.

Young Aylesworth is the son of a wealthy farmer.

The expectant bride prepared her wedding raiment and the bridal banquet was in preparation when a letter was received from Aylesworth stating that he had changed his mind, as he found that he could marry a young lady in Valparaiso who was very wealthy.

Miss Hague was of course greatly chagrined, but to ascertain if her recreant lover told the truth wrote to the young lady in the Hoosier state enclosing the letter written by Aylesworth.

She received in reply a modestly-worded letter giving the information that the writer knew Aylesworth, but that she had never consented to wed him nor even considered him as a suitor.

MOCKETT, THE CLOTHIER.

IF YOU SEE IT IN OUR AD IT'S SO.

We aim to tell the truth. Whate'er we promise, that we always do. In your dealing with us there can be no misunderstanding. No shuffling, no shadow of ambiguity can rest upon them.

WE ARE EVEN AND DIRECT WITH ALL.

It may take a longer time to erect a business on these principles, but when the fabric is once reared upon such a foundation it is invulnerable, and nothing can shake it from its base. That our name is already recognized as the synonym of worth and honesty is plainly proven by the fact that a certain clothing house is in the habit of telling our country customers who wander into their place (through mistake) and ask if that is Mockett's, "that it is!". Having no name or reputation of their own, of any worth, they practice their Jugglery upon the ignorance of strangers, and by wilful lying and misrepresentation would reap the fruits we have won and earned. If these honorable gentlemen are ashamed of the names they inherit from their fathers, let them petition the legislature of this glorious republic to change them—not, sully the good name of an honest man by using it as a cloak with which they may conceal their own contemptible trickery. "Gentleman, assume a virtue if you have it not." A word to the wise is sufficient.
